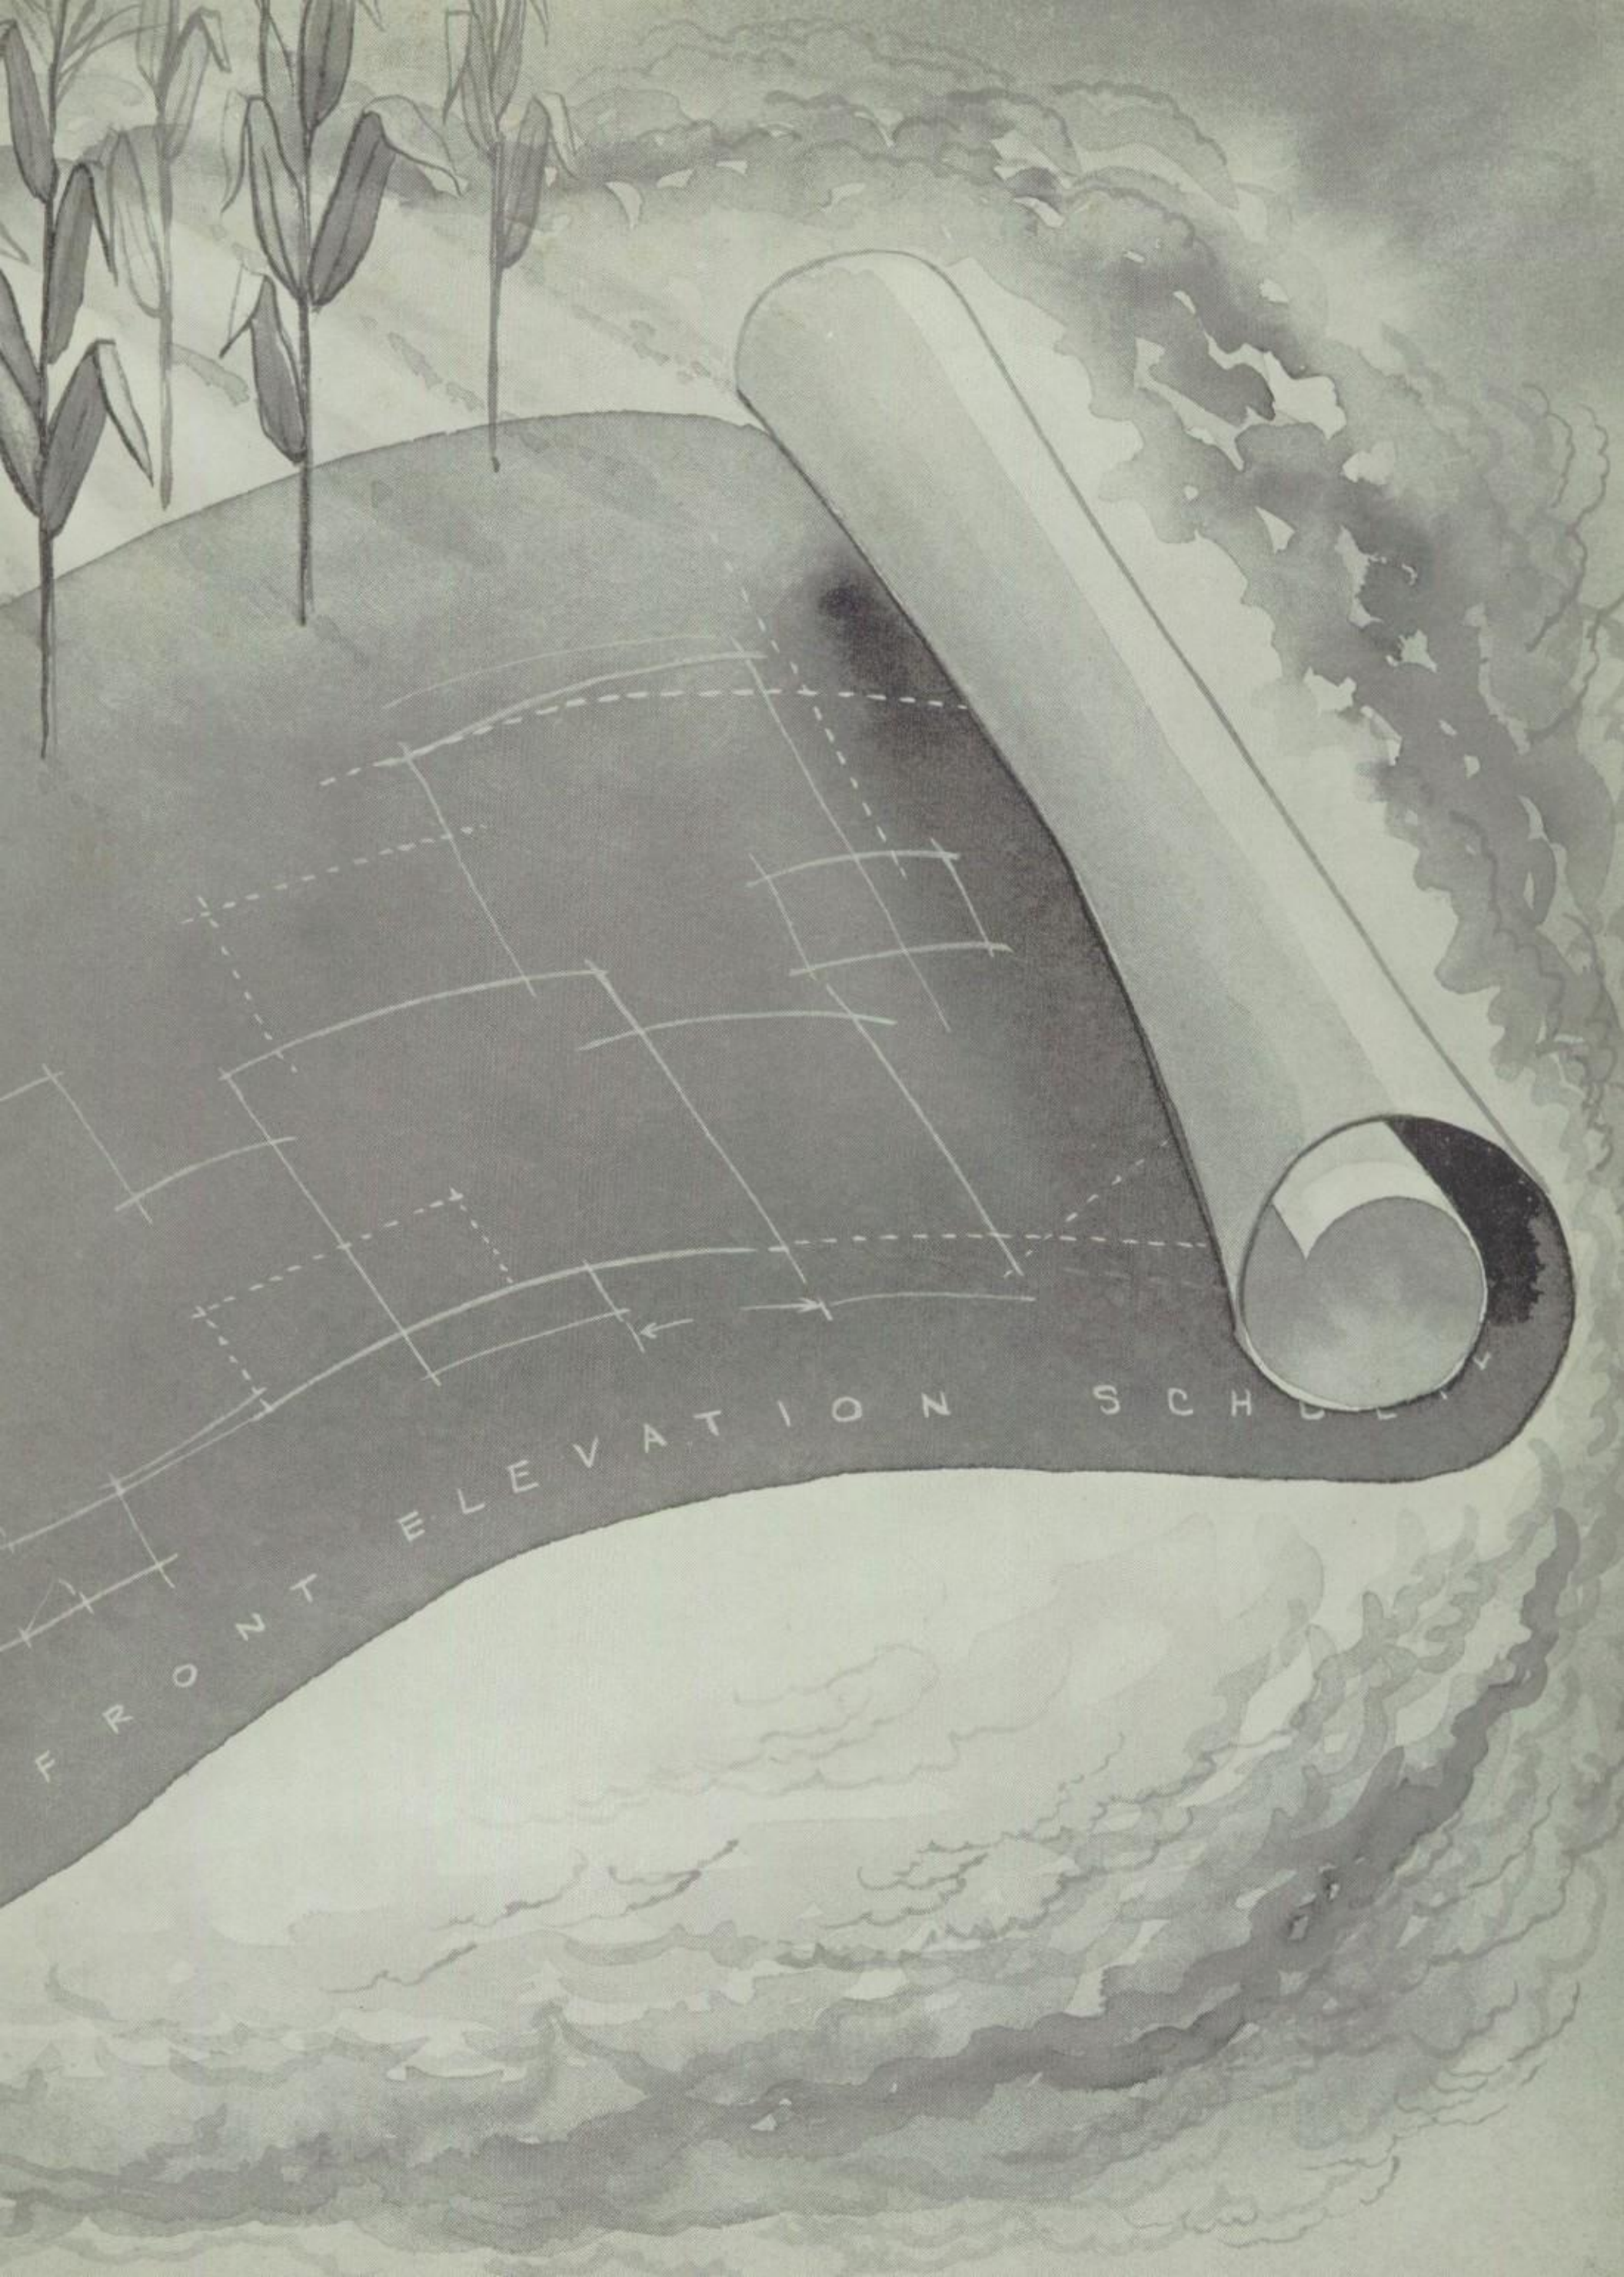
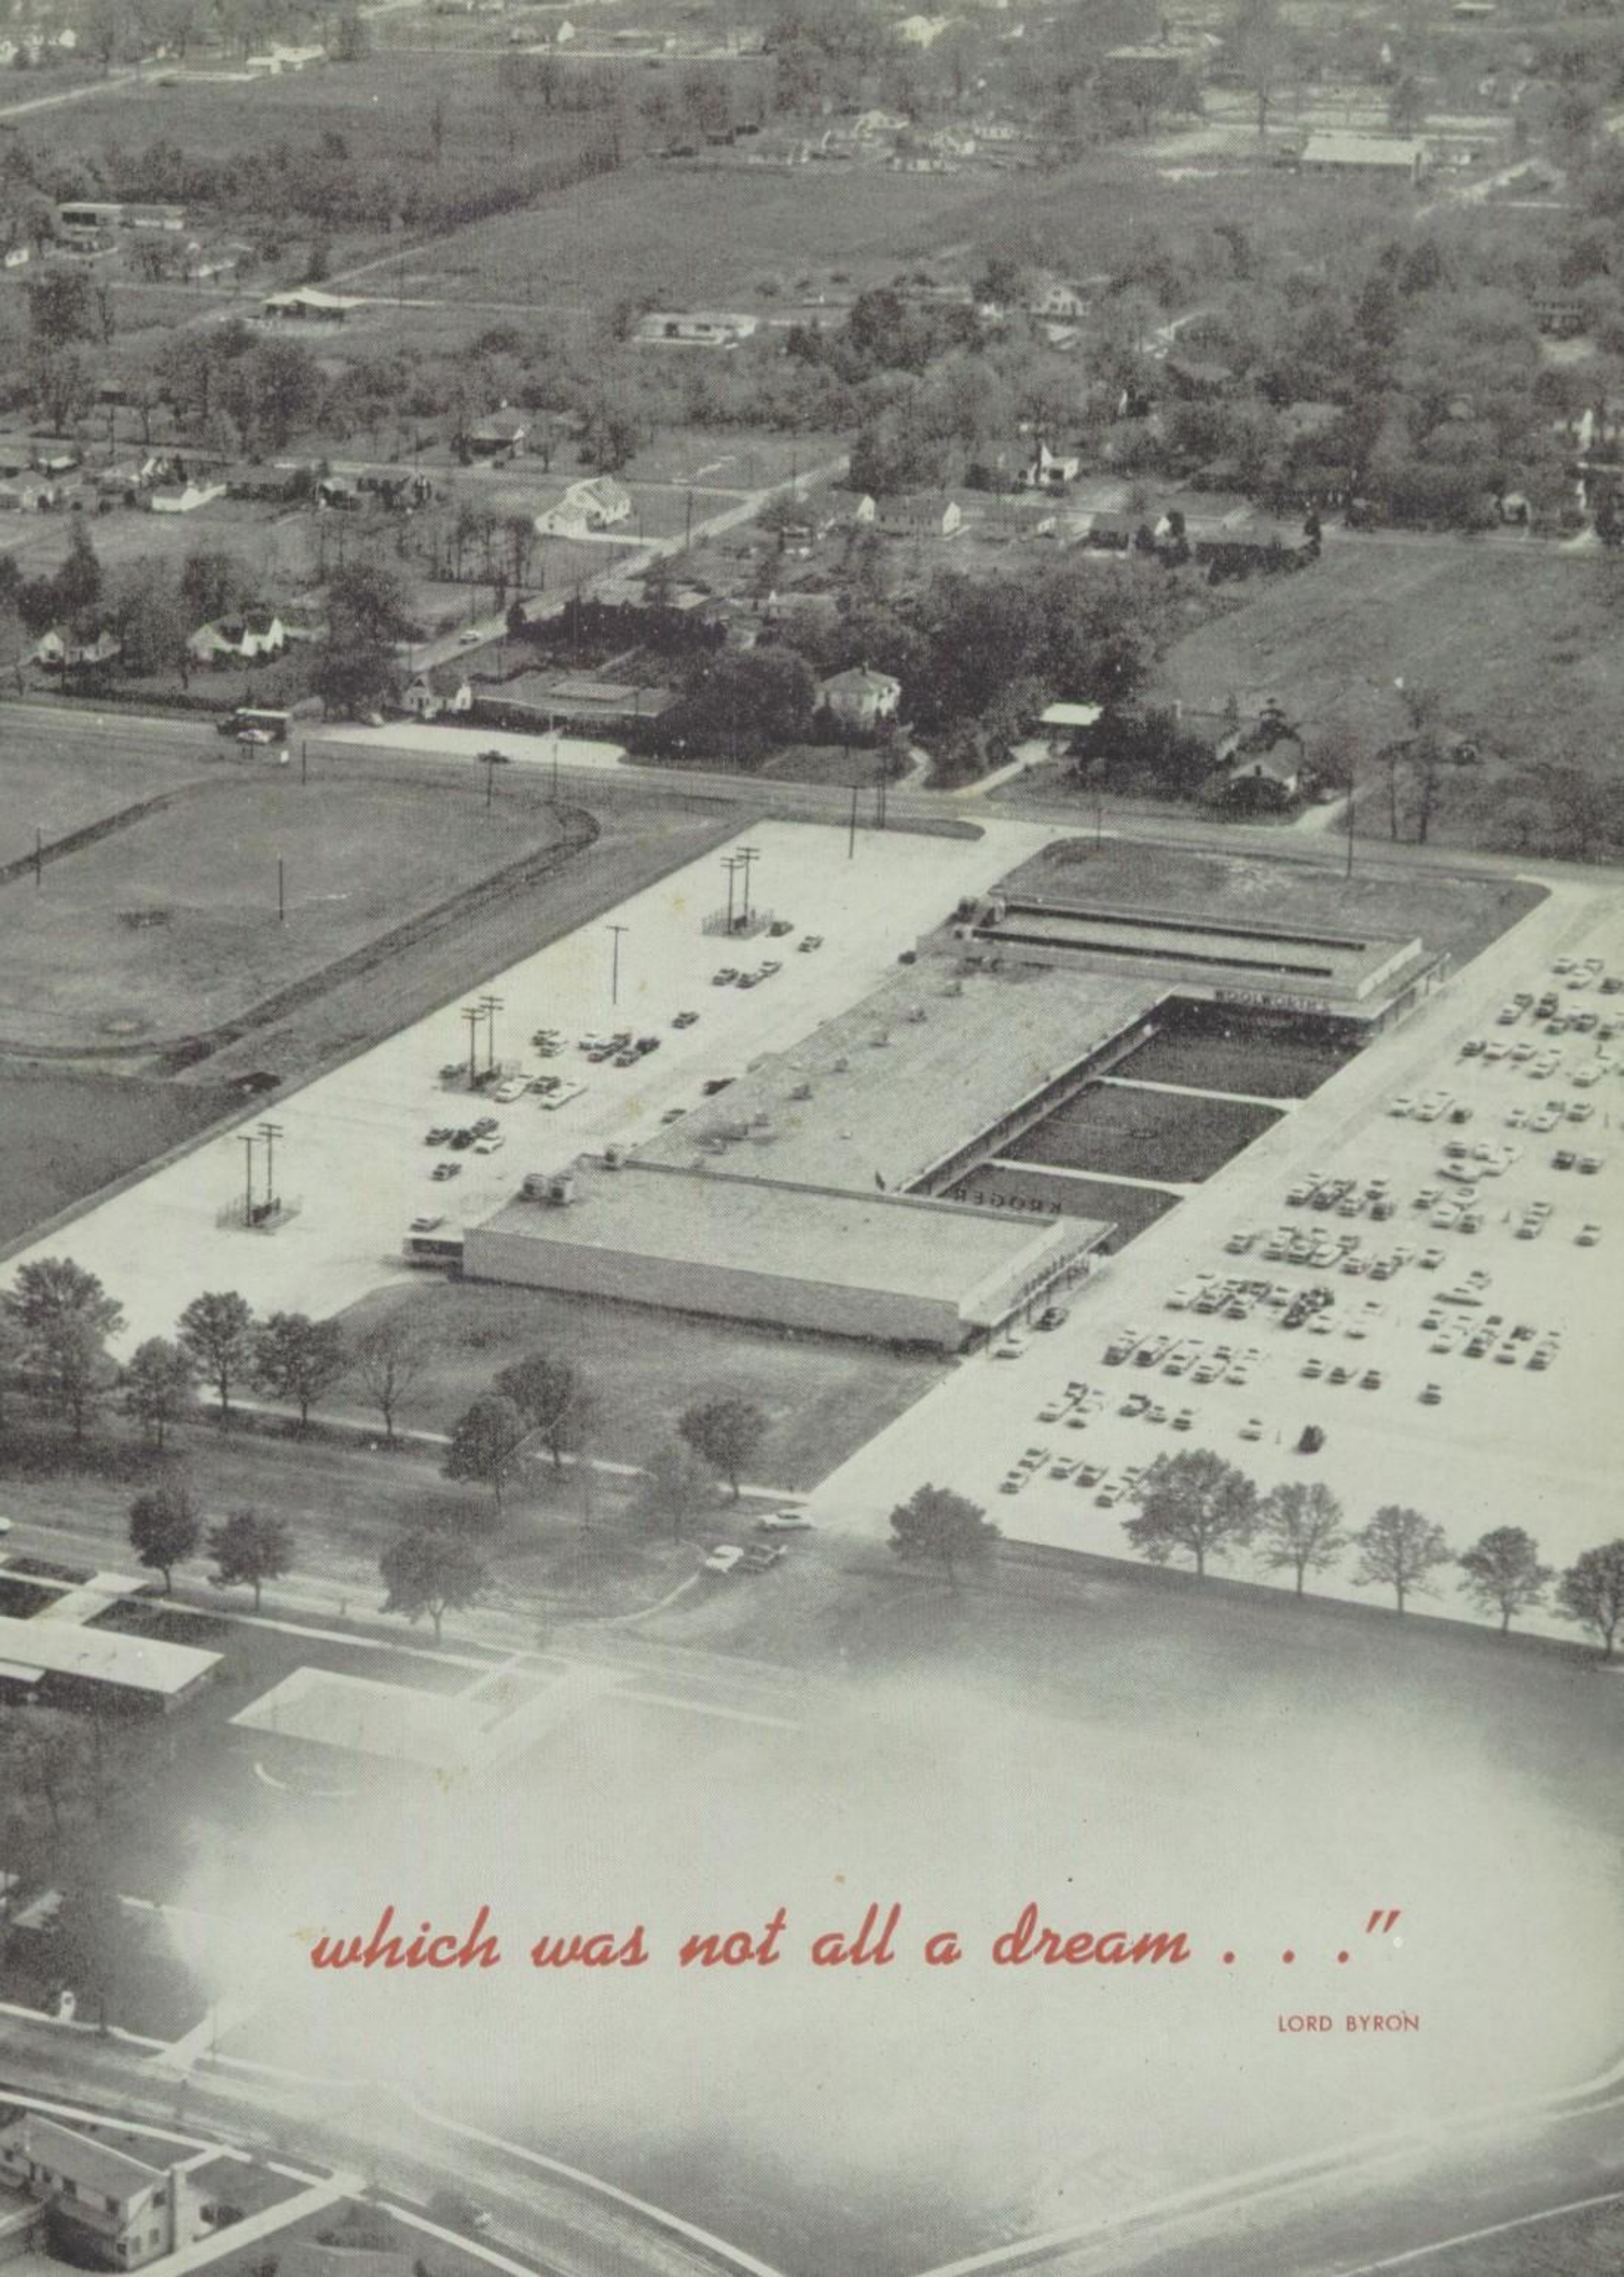
Schulte High School

Terre Haute, Indiana

"I had a dream . . .



FRONT ELEVATION SCHOOL

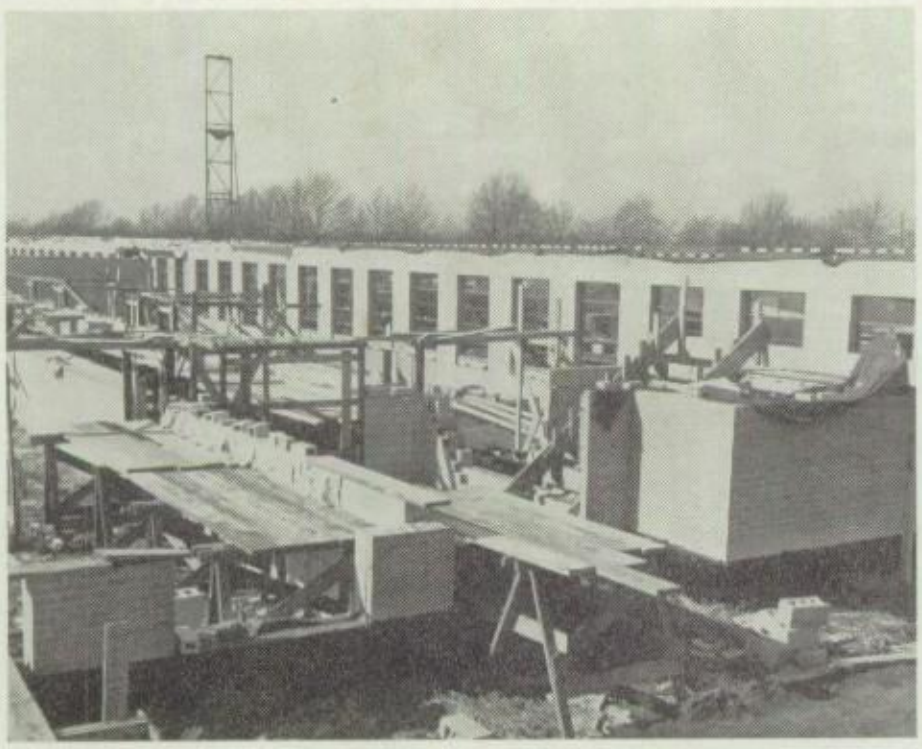


which was not all a dream . . ."

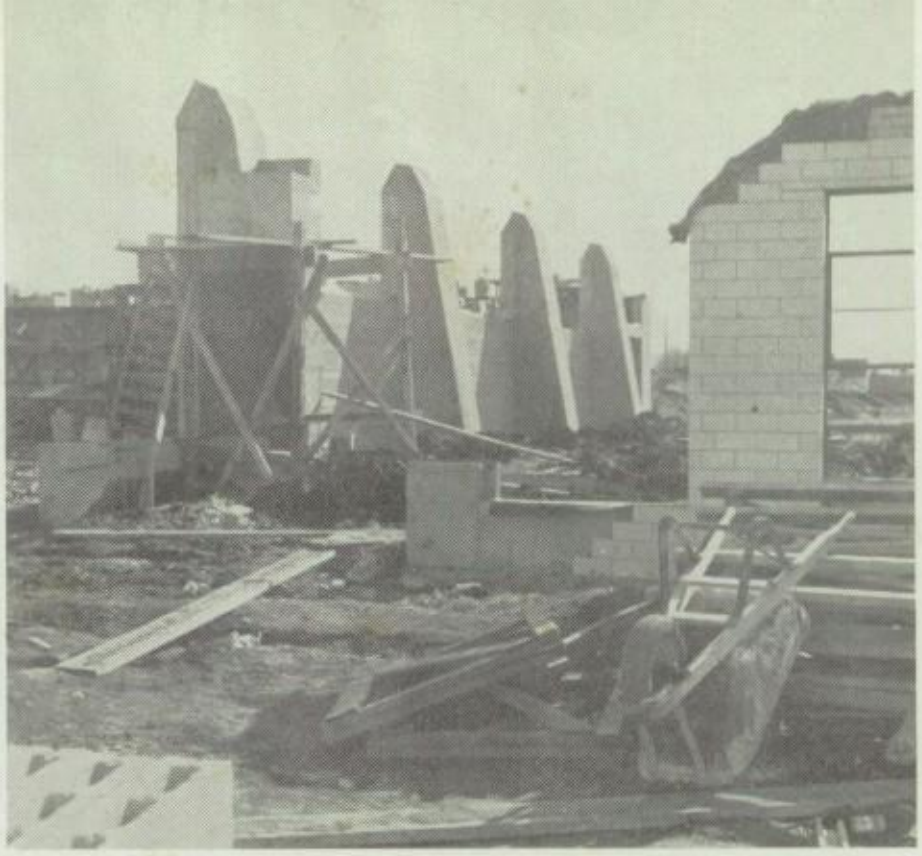
LORD BYRON

Archbishop Paul C. Schulte lays the cornerstone of the high school which bears his name. He has been a guide and an inspiration to all those concerned with this school through its formative years, and the seniors express their sincerest appreciation to him for making possible four profitable years.

"In the beginning was the Word...

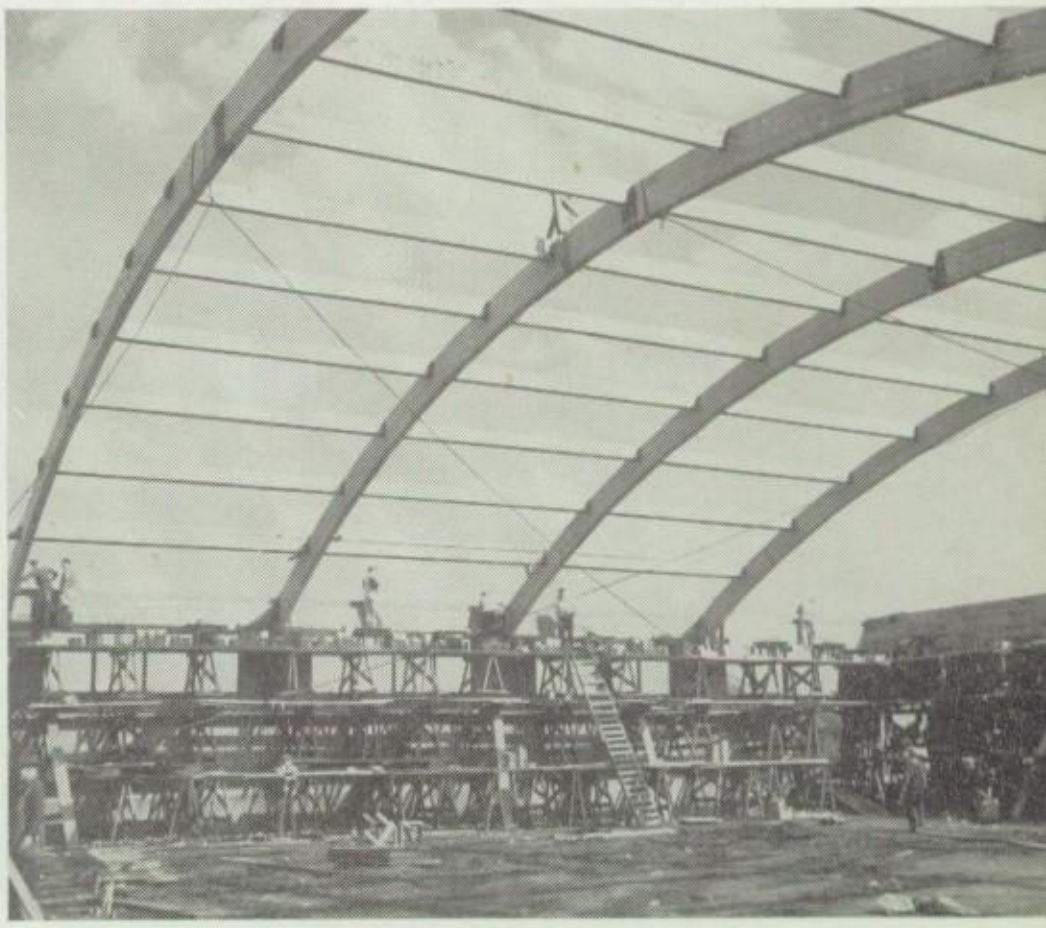


Before long a ground-floor outline of the school appears.



Progress is rapid once the foundation is completed.

Carpenters, bricklayers, plumbers, and electricians combine their efforts to prepare Schulte for the fall enrollment.



This skeleton shows promise of becoming the most modern, practical gymnasium of Terre Haute.

And the Word was made flesh..."

A Catholic, co-educational high school, a long-awaited reality for Catholic Terre Hauteans, bears a similarity to the Incarnation, an outstanding event in the history of the world. As God the Son became man, Schulte High School took form to become an edifice worthy of praise, an institution to further our understanding of doctrine and morals.

Eager freshmen,

Interested sophomores,

Experienced juniors, all share in the wealth of friendship acquired by an active school life.

"And dwelt amongst us . . .

Pensive seniors, mindful of their unique privilege of being the first class to complete four years at Schulte, express their gratitude to Our Lady for her unending love and care which they have known in the past and are confident of receiving in those uncertain years which follow graduation.

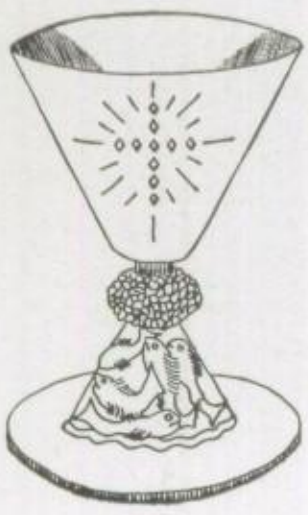
And we saw His glory . . ."

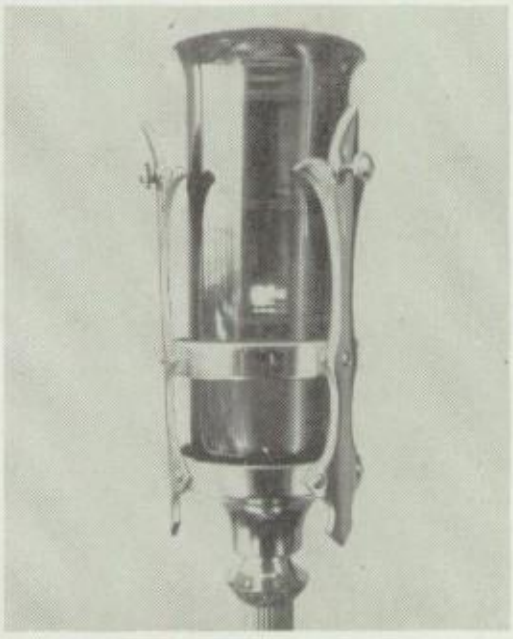
As our school grows in age and tradition, the grace of God flows abundantly upon us, the students of Schulte. Under the guidance of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, we strive to cooperate with this grace and thus see His glory in the fulfillment of the tasks entrusted to us.

Beginning our day with the grace-filled Holy Sacrifice of the Mass is a sure way to a more complete understanding of lessons taught in the classroom, laboratory, and workshop.

"Full of grace and truth . . ."

John I, 1-14





As time passes, our minds develop further.

Textbooks are keys to wisdom and understanding.

The tabernacle is our source of strength in trying days.

". . . and the Child grew,
. . . full of wisdom,
and the grace of God was in Him"

Luke II, 40

We, the seniors, look back on our four years spent at Schulte and thank God for the tremendous opportunities given to us. The external growth and improvement of Schulte during these years should mirror somewhat the spiritual, intellectual, and social growth of each senior.

Schulte High School . . . 1957!

A dream for many years, the beginning of a reality in 1953, and an established Catholic co-educational high school in 1954—certainly much has taken place since Catholic Terre Haute first had that dream. From the blueprint on an architect's desk to a beautiful building in one of the newest subdivisions of Terre Haute, Schulte has gained for itself a reputation for excellence in many fields. May the years ahead find our school retaining her rightful position among the finest schools in Indiana.

"And He advanced in wisdom . . ."

Luke II, 52

Men may some day despoil an individual of material necessities, but they can never destroy the knowledge that he has gained. Students mindful of this fact, as they go from classroom to classroom, diligently strive to increase their knowledge and to advance in true wisdom.

A Schulte Day Unfolds . . .

Students enter school ready to acquire knowledge for a well-rounded education.

From 8:05 until 2:55, the rustle of papers, scratch of pencils, staccato beat of typewriters, and recitation to the screech of an electric saw indicate Schulte's "operation education" is underway.

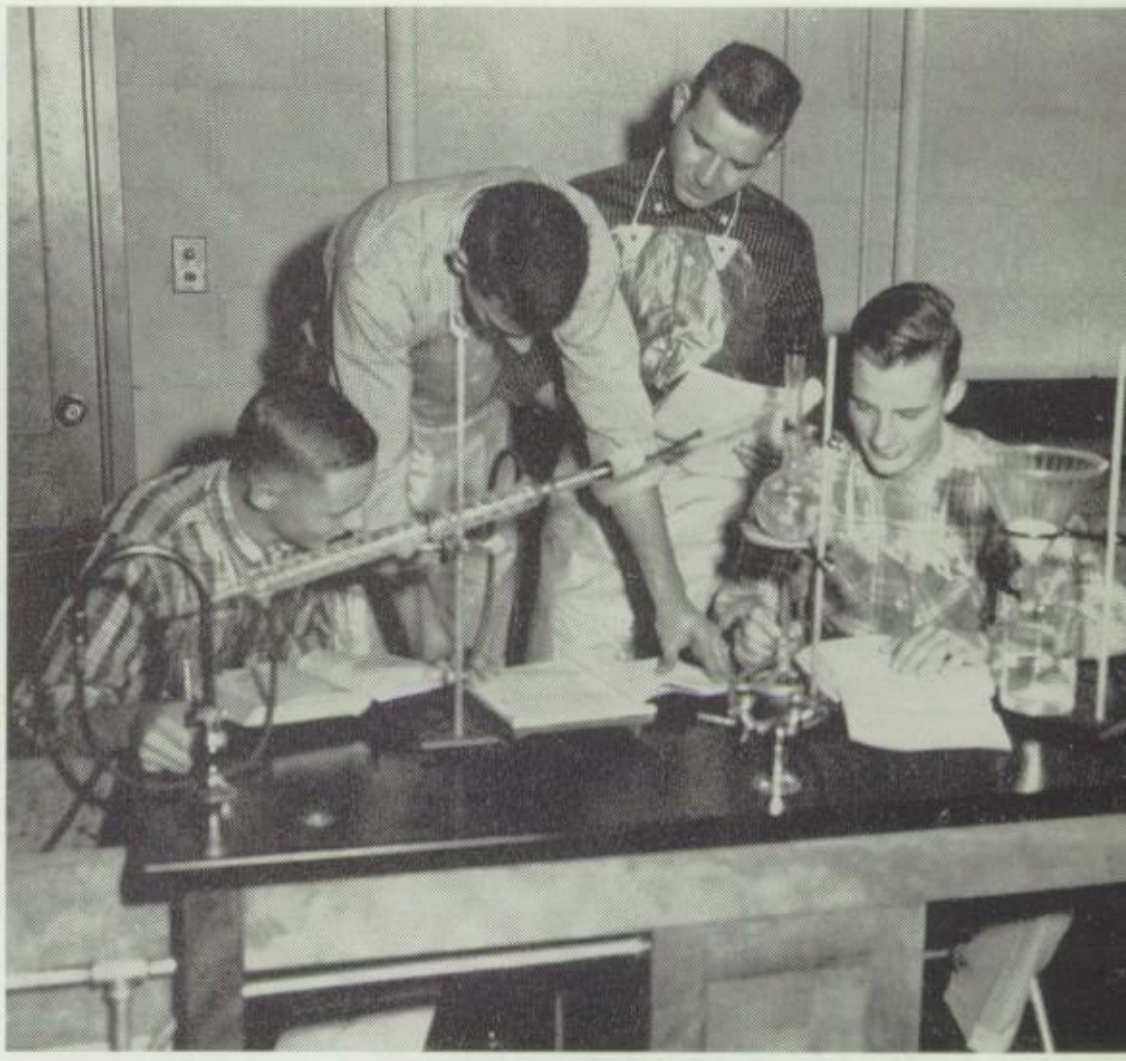
Centrally located, the bookstore provides us with necessary materials.

An avalanche of humanity descends upon the cafeteria at 11:50 a.m. as the seniors rush to enjoy their special first-in-line privilege.

A span of four minutes between classes creates minor chaos as students ascend and descend the stairs in great haste.

Biology students use microscopes to observe the movements of one-celled organisms.

Basic sciences including biology, chemistry, and physics, guide our students to the fundamental understanding of the laws governing God's world.



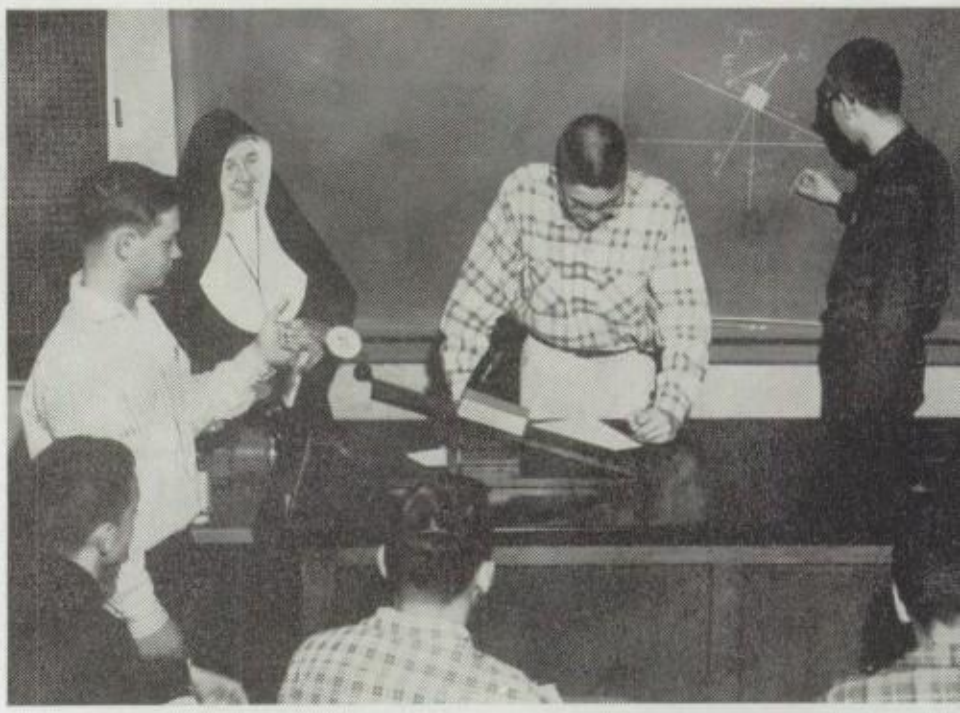
The distillation of water presents no problem for Kent Bolerjack, Ronald Sullivan, Thomas Kulinski, and Richard O'Leary in chemistry.

Directing Curious Minds . . .

Louis Smith waits to calculate with his slide rule a force problem which Walter Wilson is measuring to complete his physics experiment.

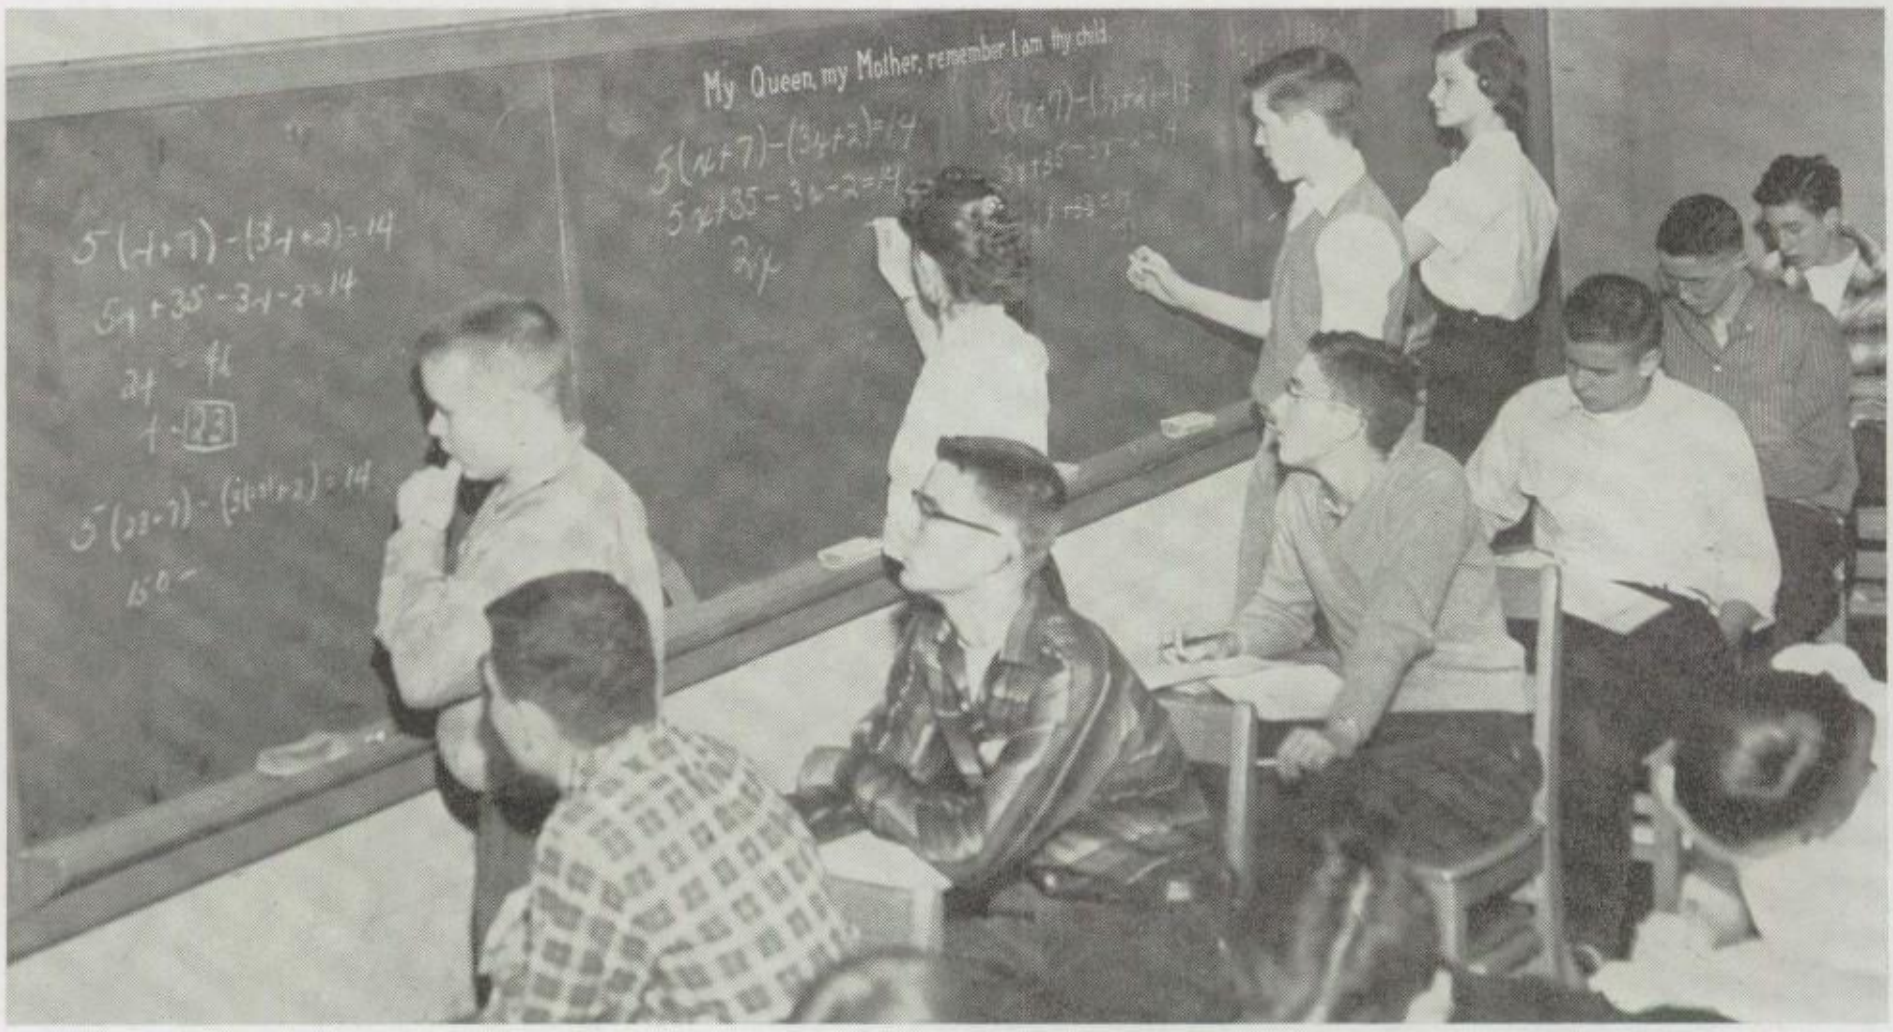
Seniors Larry Leach, Huerta Tribble, Edward Fahy, and Tony Burget scan vocational literature provided by Father Fish for his senior religion classes.

In both religion and mathematics classes, a master plan for all four years is followed to insure complete coverage of essential material.



Friction and gravity create a problem in trigonometry class which Louis Smith, Robert Paton, and James Giffel attempt to solve.

Later-life "Equipment" . . .



Freshman algebra class members find it necessary to discover exactly what "X" and "Y" signify.

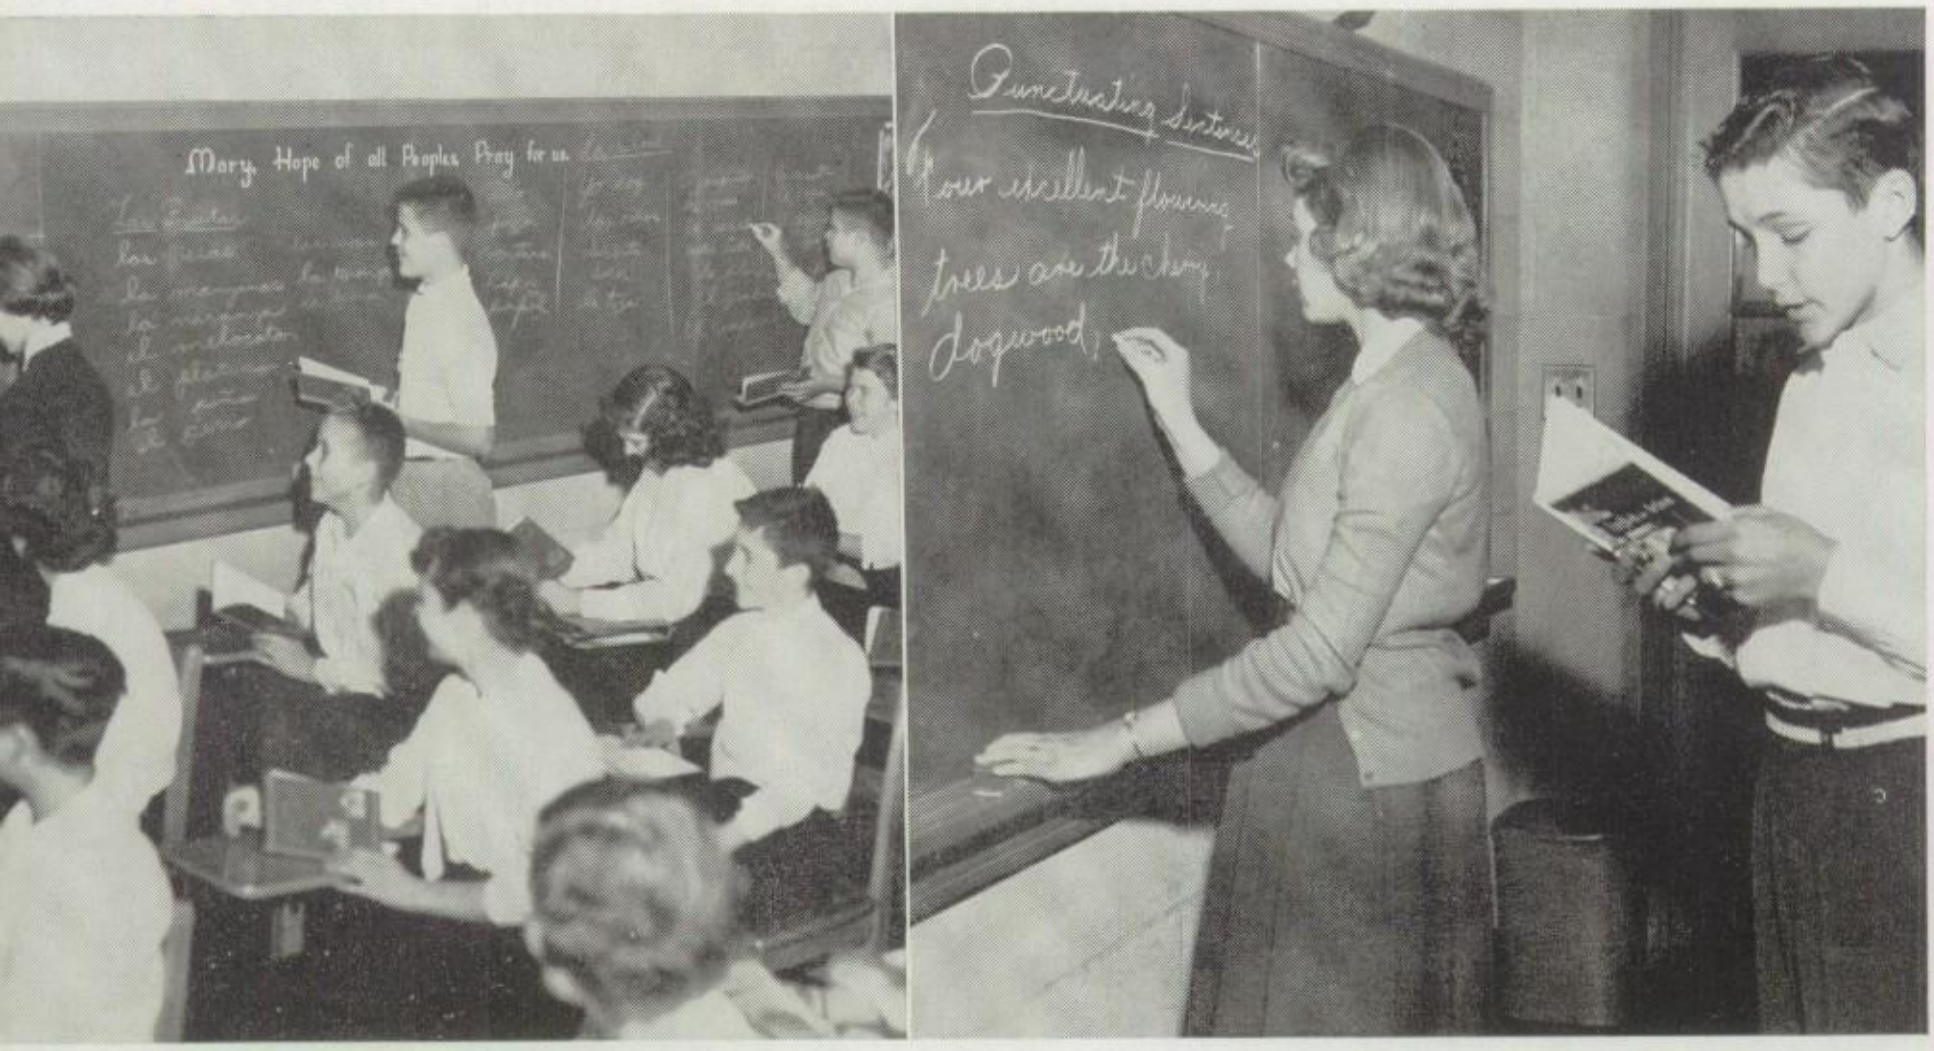
Historically Speaking . . .

Three courses necessary for the understanding of our nation and problems with which it is faced are government, current world problems, and United States history. These subjects are offered as an important part of a school's curriculum. Campaign speeches, vivid maps, and newspapers increase interest in the minds of students who one day may be involved in settling national or international disputes.

In a "whistle-stop" campaign speech, Tony Burget pleads his cause to an election-conscious government class.

Linda Turner points out one of the problem places in the East to other members of the current world problems class.

United States history class members, John Haley, Kathy Thoms, Albert Dannenbrink, and Jane Cook, scan the revised edition of a Colonial Day newspaper to see the public viewpoint of that era.



Board work is of great assistance in giving a student a better understanding of his subject, and Spanish students are no exception to the rule.

If not now, then in later life, Constance Pulsford, Thomas Fenoglio, and all those in various English classes will find the correct rules of punctuation profitable.

David Bonnett might be saying, "Care to dance?" But Susie Murphy would find it hard to follow him to a recording of French pronunciations.

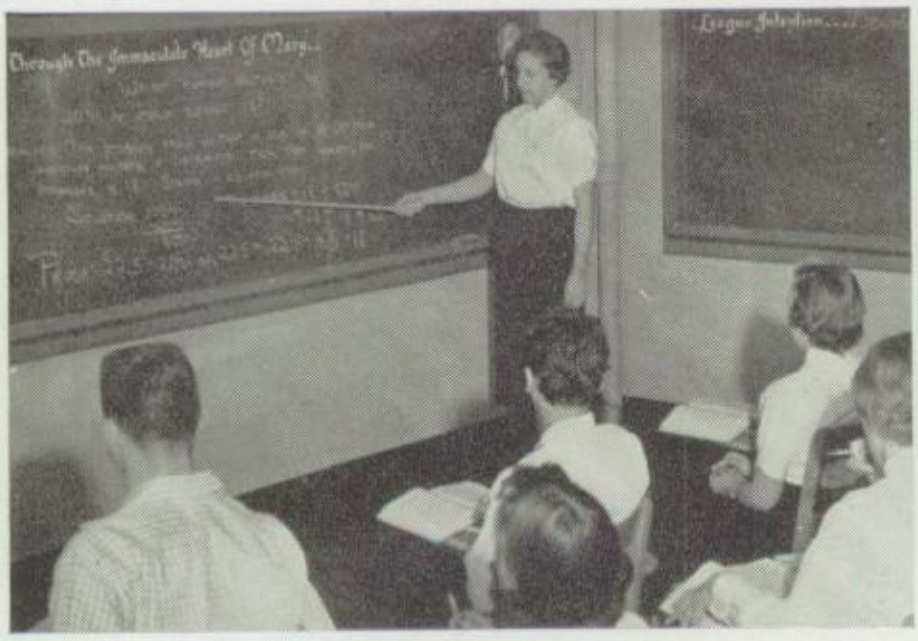
Four Languages for You . . .

Oui, oui . . . si, si . . . ita, ita . . . yes, yes—languages are an essential part of school life at Schulte. One never knows which of four tongues he will hear a friend speak. Parlez-vous Francais?

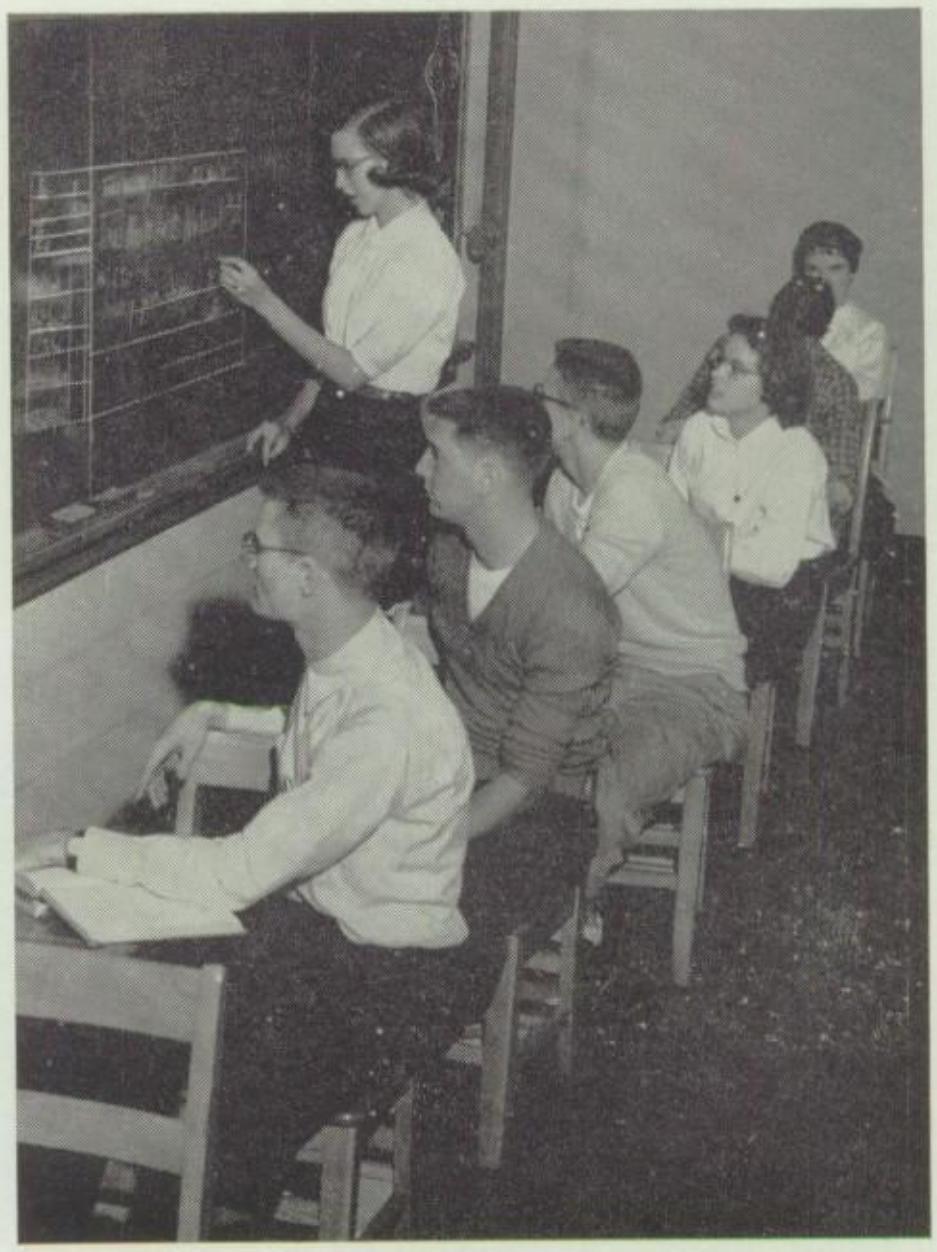
"A drill a day keeps those F's away." That is sound philosophy according to these students in the second year Latin class.

Along the Commercial Line . . .

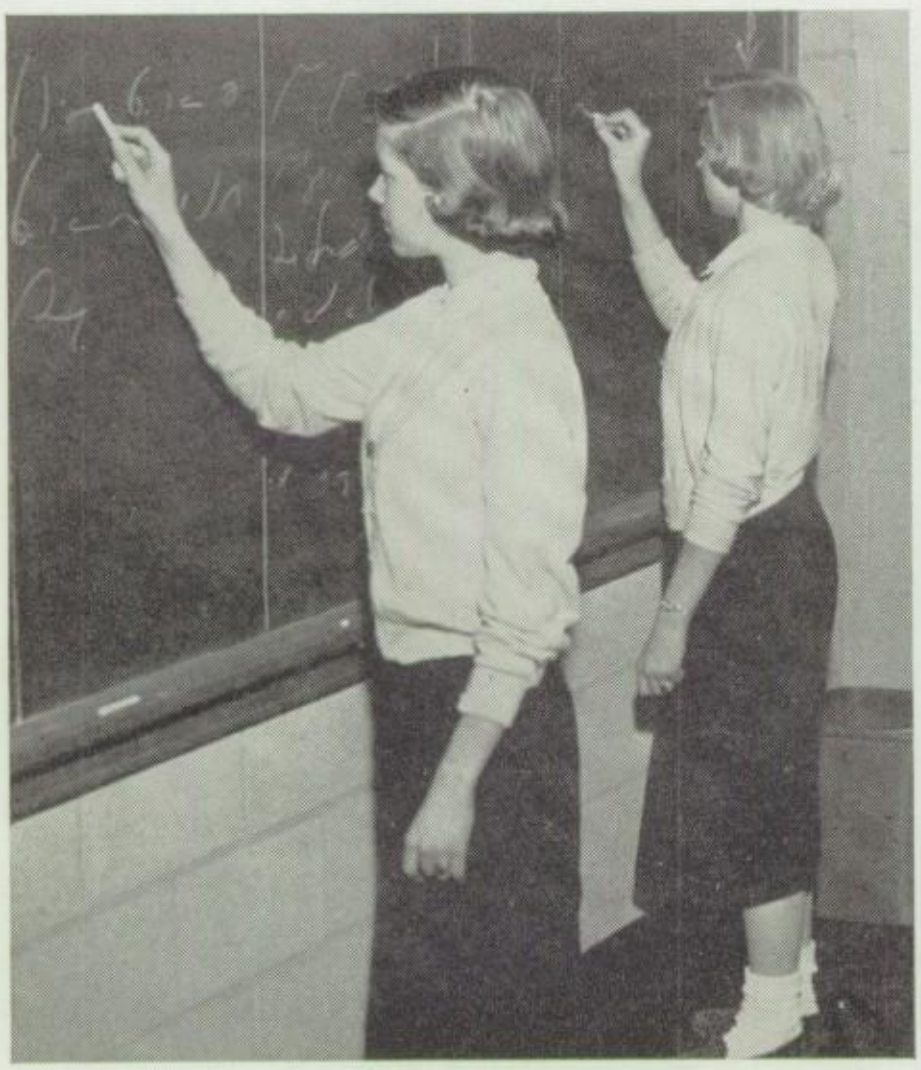
Business mathematics, bookkeeping, shorthand, and typing are necessary courses that will be used throughout our lives whether in college, in the business or professional world, or for our own personal needs.



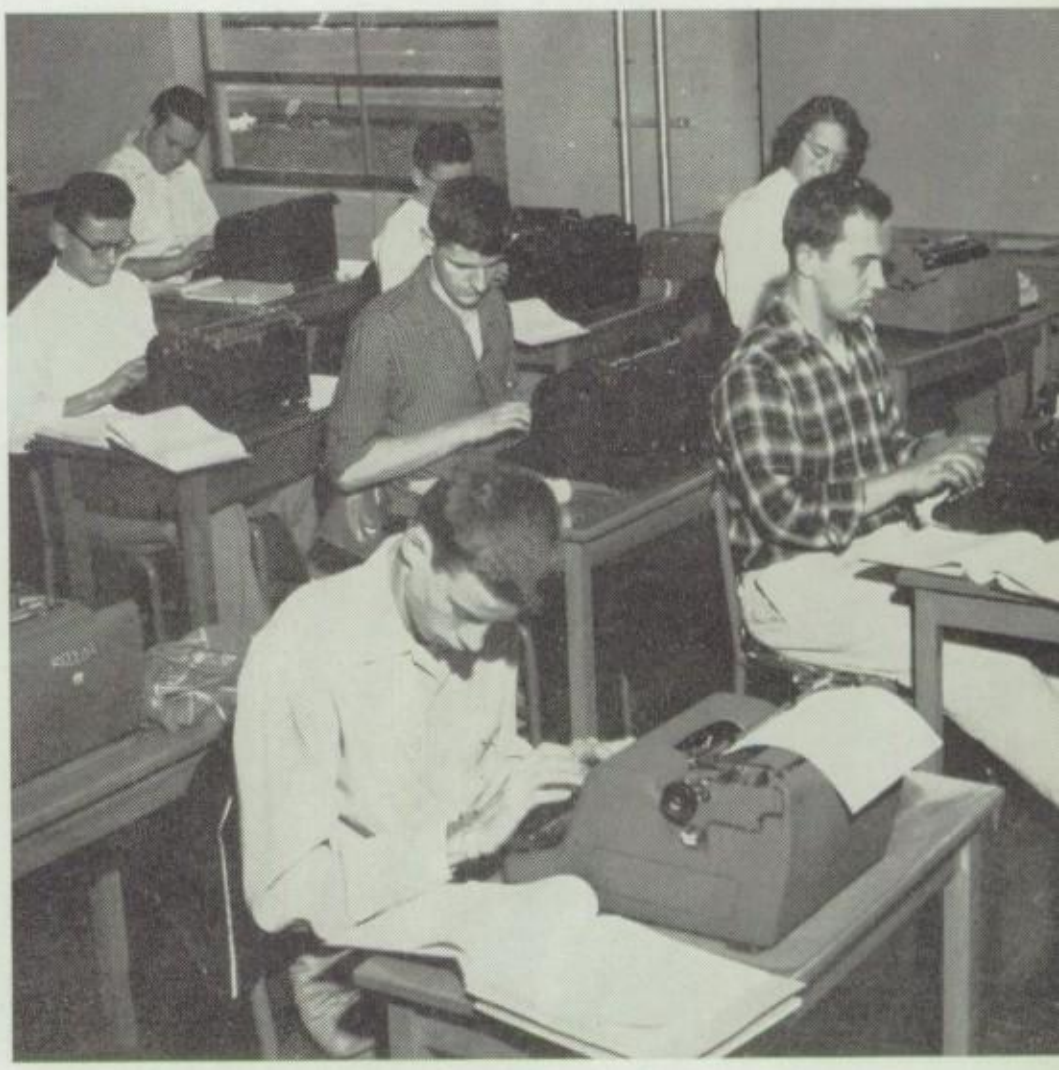
Thought problems are no longer a mystery when explained at the board by Judy Steward.



A critical bookkeeping class watches as Rosemary Bonte completes her explanation of the intricacies of check writing.



Shorthand students, Jane Findley and Janet Lubbehusen, find an easier way to copy material by learning a new alphabet.



"Click, click," sound the machines as typing tyros struggle through their daily exercise to relax stiff fingers.

Basic principles of drafting and designing are taught to students who are planning to enter the field of mechanical engineering and architecture.

Schulte is indeed very fortunate to have its own print shop. Joe Michki, Ray Killion, and John Berg learn the fundamentals of hand-set type.

Industrial Artists . . .

For those interested in vocational careers Schulte offers courses in home economics and industrial education. These subjects assist in training students in skillful methods for their individual type of work in later life.

The wood shop, provided with the most modern equipment, is the proper place for students to learn how to complete those "Do-it-yourself" jobs.

Lucile Maskell and Linda Ofsansky work diligently to finish a formal for the annual style show sponsored by the home economics students.

Tasty treats are produced with ease in well-equipped model kitchens by Sandra Fischer and Patricia Stephen.

Our recently organized band, under the direction of Mr. Robert Garritson, adds sparkle and stamina to Schulte's pep sessions and games.

Music for Everyone . . .

This year during every class period strains of band music or of vocal selections echo through the halls from Mr. Garritson's or Sister Mary Huberta's music classes. Meeting five days a week in a new full-credit course, the Choral Club of Schulte High School is growing in renown throughout the city.

While James Bray changes a record of Chopin, Sister Mary Huberta interprets the various moods of this famous composer for Hugh McLeish, Jerrie Goda, and others of her music appreciation class.

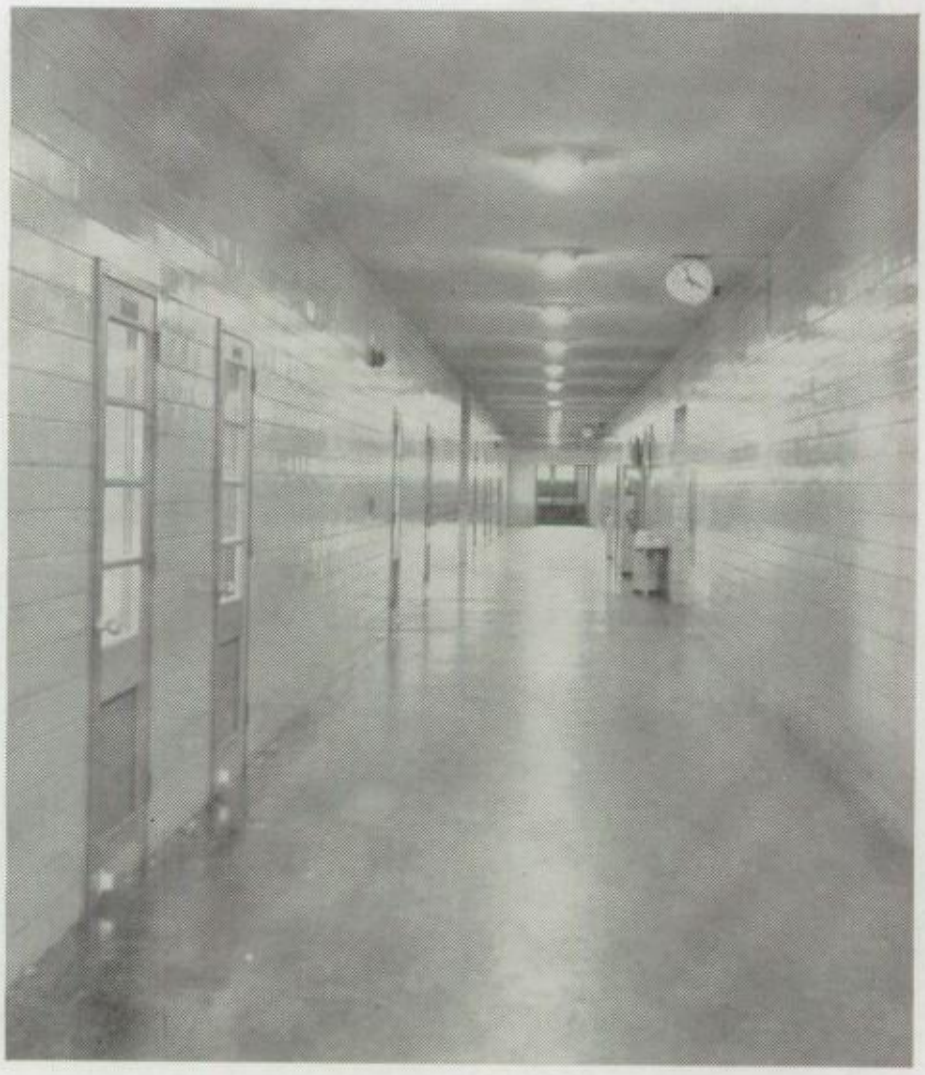
Choral Club members are: Front row—J. Richetta, S. Kammerer, J. Drew, J. Evon, and C. S. Lindeman. Second row—C. Petty, D. Costello, M. K. Sullivan, S. McKenzie, L. Welch, W. McKenzie, and M. A. Darbutt. Third row—J. Schnyder, J. Snow, J. Abolt, J. Sullivan, and P. Bray.

Change of classes gives friends a few minutes to catch up on the social and academic news of the hour.

Lockers are a necessary "stop-off" between classes.

Completing an Active Day . . .

After another day of school, students start for home with more knowledge to put to their own personal use.



Schulte's halls appear empty, but the echoes of the busy day can still be heard.

Officers and members of the Student Council are: Seated—Jolene Richetta, secretary-treasurer; James Funk, president; and Paula Welch. Standing—Father Joseph Beechem, Kay Codding, Robert Valle, Jean Klug, Stephanie Arnold, Margie Cahill, Hugh McLeish, Stephen Chernay, David Garino, John Bardon, and Carol Sue Hanna. James O'Connell, vice-president, is not pictured.

"Schulte's Integraters" . . .

Under the guidance of Father Beechem, the student council strives earnestly to develop established school policies, set standards, and present resolutions which concern students, faculty, or both.

Besides being integraters, they also take full charge of important annual events that include the interests of the entire student body—homecoming coronation, the carnival, sock-hops, and smaller activities. Selling of the basketball and football season tickets is also handled by this essential organization.

The Safe-teen Drivers' Club, introduced by the Student Council, has many practical aims. Here James Funk, president of both organizations, explains to Thomas Kulinski, left, why he seeks 100 per cent cooperation in membership at Schulte.

Study Club heads check the school calendar to arrange special dates for their various activities. Kay Codding and John O'Dea, Freshman Club; Larry DeRolf, Advertising Christianity; Tony Burget, St. Vincent de Paul; Ron Sullivan, St. John Bosco; Patricia Hanley, Catholic Literature; John Brinkman, Junior St. John Bosco.

Spreading Catholicism . . .

Catholic literature, advertisement, and action are furthered by the many mission study clubs here at Schulte. Meetings are held weekly, and many of these clubs assist the C.S.M.C. in aiding the foreign missions as well as people here at home. Newest study club organized this year is the St. Vincent de Paul which concentrates its attention on the lonely people at the Vigo County Poor Farm.

Members of the St. Vincent de Paul Study Club prepare for a weekly birthday party for residents of the Poor Farm.

School-wide

Catholic Action . . .

Sister Mary Helen and members of this all-school organization, the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade, assist the foreign and home missions by sending money and prayers offered by the student body.

C.S.M.C. officers—Larry DeRolf, publicity director; Lynn Fruehauf, secretary; Tony Burget, president; Suzanne Kammerer, treasurer; Patrick Mellon, vice-president; Jack Schnyder, spiritual co-ordinator—discuss plans for their annual Christmas card drive.

Most beautiful project of the C.S.M.C. for the year is the May Crowning. Kay Moomaw, secretary during the year 1955-1956, places a floral wreath on Our Lady's statue.

Participants of the May Crowning are the officers and homeroom representatives. They are pictured here just after the crowning.

Schulte's Honor Groups . . .

Incomparable to other organizations of Schulte are two honor societies, National Honor Society and Quill and Scroll. Each year fifteen per cent of the current senior class is selected by the faculty for membership in the National Honor Society. The Quill and Scroll is an honorary society for outstanding students in the field of journalism.

Planning the initiation ceremony for future members are the National Honor Society officers—James Funk, vice-president; Joy Foulkes, president; William Fenoglio, treasurer; and Jolene Richetta, secretary.

Newly elected members of Quill and Scroll are: seated —Patricia Kniptasch, and Margaret Blueher. Standing— Bruce Gerard, president; Lynn Fruehauf, Joy Foulkes, and Carol Petty.

Planning Ahead . . .

To acquire a better understanding in the fields of teaching and nursing, students are instructed by Sister Ann Monica, advisor of the Future Teachers of America, and Sister Jean Margaret, advisor of the Future Nurses' Club. These organizations enable students to prepare remotely for two important professions.

Officers of the FNC are: seated—Jerrie Goda, vice-president; Carol Thoms, president; Kay Royer, secretary. Standing—Joanne Moore, publicity chairman; Jan Lubbehusen, program chairman; Betty Richards, treasurer.

FTA officers and members are: seated—Margie Cahill, vice-president; Carol Decker, secretary; Janet Nichols, president; Judy Kelley, treasurer. Standing—Suzanne Murphy, Sandra Whitman, Darby Costello, Nancy Bright, Marianne Capps, Barbara Bennet, Margie Franzwa.

At a nearby research laboratory, science students view the recent progress in antibiotic control of disease.

Science in Action . . .

Throughout the year, the active Science Club, under the direction of Sister Agnes Aloyse, visits industrial plants in and around Terre Haute, hears guest speakers, and views current movies and slides on modern science. Members who wish enter the Annual Indiana Science Fair.

Science Club officers leave school to attend a tour of a local industry. Larry DeRolf, secretary; Joy Foulkes, president; John Haley, vice-president; and Kathleen Thoms, treasurer.

Behind the Scenes . . .

A newly organized club at Schulte, the Stage Club, under the direction of Sister Mary Huberta, assists at production time with effective lighting, makeup, costumes, and stage properties.

Schulte's Stenographers . . .

Those who are interested in secretarial careers find that membership in the Secretary-of-the-Month Club gives additional experience to help with unusual office situations later on. Under the direction of Sister Mary Gertrude, members relieve the office somewhat of general duplicating.

Officers of the Secretary-of-the-Month Club are: Mary Gail Verdeyen, junior representative; Mary Jo Piazza, president; Patricia Hanley, secretary-treasurer; Barbara Bennet, vice-president.

Aedificatores . . .

The Latin club, Aedificatores—the builders—sponsored by Sister Winifred Ann holds meetings twice a month during the class period. Members subscribe to the Latin newspaper, Auxilium Latinum, and read and discuss articles written in the "dead" language.

Doing research on their favorite subject, Latin, are the officers of the Schulte Latin Club. Suzanne Murphy, president; Lynn Fruehauf, vice-president; Carol Thoms, secretary; and John Haley, treasurer.

Modern "Romans" partake of a Latin banquet, highlight of the year for the Latin Club. Lynn Fruehauf, Paula Welch, Jolene Richetta, Tony Donovan, Margaret Blueher, and Suzanne Murphy.

Officers of the Junior Red Cross, as they plan a new project, are: Darby Costello, vice-president; Margie Smith, secretary; Suzanne Kammerer, president; and Judy Kelley, treasurer. This active group, under the direction of Sister Ann Joachim, constructed Thanksgiving and Christmas favors for St. Anthony's hospital and cooperated with the Junior Red Cross in a polio project.

Members of the Library Club, also under Sister Ann Joachim's guidance, meet to discuss new books and pamphlets to be distributed throughout the library for the use of the students. Seated—Marianne Capps; Sharon Kearney, secretary; Margie Smith, vice-president; Jolene Richetta, president; Darby Costello, treasurer; Cathy Boyd. Standing—Maureen Cleary, Janet Nichols, Barbara Bennet, Patricia Porter, Mary Margaret Thompson, Jane Drew, Roseanne Corey, Carolyn Sue Lindeman, Phyllis Nasser, Jeanne Foulkes.

Serving Others . . .

These play an important part in the social life of the students. They not only assist projects directly concerned with Schulte itself, but they also help foreign missions, the aged, and philanthropic groups in Terre Haute.

Homemaking Club officers and moderators construct colorful holly wreaths at Christmastime for the needy. Mrs. William Clark and Miss Doris Bradley, moderators; Mary Margaret Thompson, secretary; Mary Gail Verdeyen, vice-president; Joan Belfi, treasurer; and Patricia Duffy, president.

G.A.A. Activities . . .

Under the capable direction of Mrs. William Clark, the Girls' Athletic Association has planned and accomplished much this year. Meetings were held each Monday evening, during which basketball, volleyball, swimming, and tumbling play-days were planned to give Schulte girls a variety of sports.

G.A.A. officers are: Jerrie Goda, secretary-treasurer; Susie Murphy, point chairman; Paula Welch, president; Margy Denehie, vice-president.

An activity of the G.A.A. provides fun for those who attend the regular Monday night meetings. Jerrie Goda does the splits, while Jan Richards and Mary Lee Shea stand on their heads to outline a pyramid composed of Julie Ferguson, Juliann DeRolf, Linda Welch, Jo Ann Moore, Carol Hanna, Jane Denehie, Margie Franzwa, Marilyn Thoms, Joan Belfi, and Rosemary Pfleging.

Bruce Gerard, editor-in-chief, and Patricia Kniptasch, associate editor, check each entry of the 1957 Mitre.

Carol Petty, literary editor, gives necessary identification to each picture before sending it to the engraver.

Year's History in the Hal Youart and Thomas Stergar, artists for the Mitre, decide on color schemes and arrangements which will appear on division pages.

Lynn Fruehauf, layout editor, and Mary Kaye Sullivan, editor of photography, correlate their ideas about picture sizes in the "dummy."

Joseph Findley, business manager, and Joseph Abolt, associate business manager, work constantly to keep the Mitre's records in order.

Mr. Emmanuel Fusco, advisor, and Sister Jean Margaret, literary advisor, direct the staff in gaining a high rating in journalistic creativeness for the 1957 Mitre.

"Printed" Making . . .

To summarize the progress and happenings of the school year and to give the student body a memory book for later life were the aims of the 1957 Mitre staff. They strove to put forth a yearbook which would serve these purposes to the greatest extent.

Essential to any staff are the apprentices and typists. Nancy Bright, Linda Roach, and James Schneider are being trained for higher positions next year. Kay Royer, Janet Lubbehusen, and Marilyn Murdock type business letters, advertising forms, and copy for the annual.

Cutline; Dateline; Deadline . . .

December 7, 1956, marked the day for the appearance of our school newspaper—the Schultean. Working assiduously, Sister Marian and staff have gathered all current news and have published it for the students.

Lining up their currently-collected newsbits are reporters David Bonnett, Tony Burget, Mary Ann Darbutt, Suzanne Kammerer, Wyneta McKenzie, Tony Donovan, Marilyn Murdock, and Judith Diver.

Layout planning gets underway as the editors set to work. Carol Petty, feature editor; Margaret Blueher, news editor; Kaye Sullivan, photo editor; William Fenoglio, sports editor; Jolene Richetta, alumni editor.

Joy Foulkes, editor-in-chief, and Sister Marian, advisor, check over the finished project with satisfaction.

Mary Kay Dammann, Judith Steward, Carol Thoms, Catherine Boyd, Linda Turner, Larry DeRolf, and William Nasser—the business section of the staff—organize their ads for the next Schultean issue.

A carefree couple smiles in anticipation of an evening of enjoyment.

Social Highlights of 1957 . . .

Dances, informal sock-hops, coronations, stage musicals, and festivities of all types add excitement to life at Schulte and enable students to exemplify their Catholic training in social graces.

Football Season's Glamour

Our Gridiron Queen of 1956, Miss Lynn Fruehauf, waves to the crowd as she is driven around the field during half time.

Queen's attendants from each of the four classes are: Carol Hanna, freshman; Margy Denehie, senior; Kathy Thoms, junior; Dolores Burdick, sophomore.

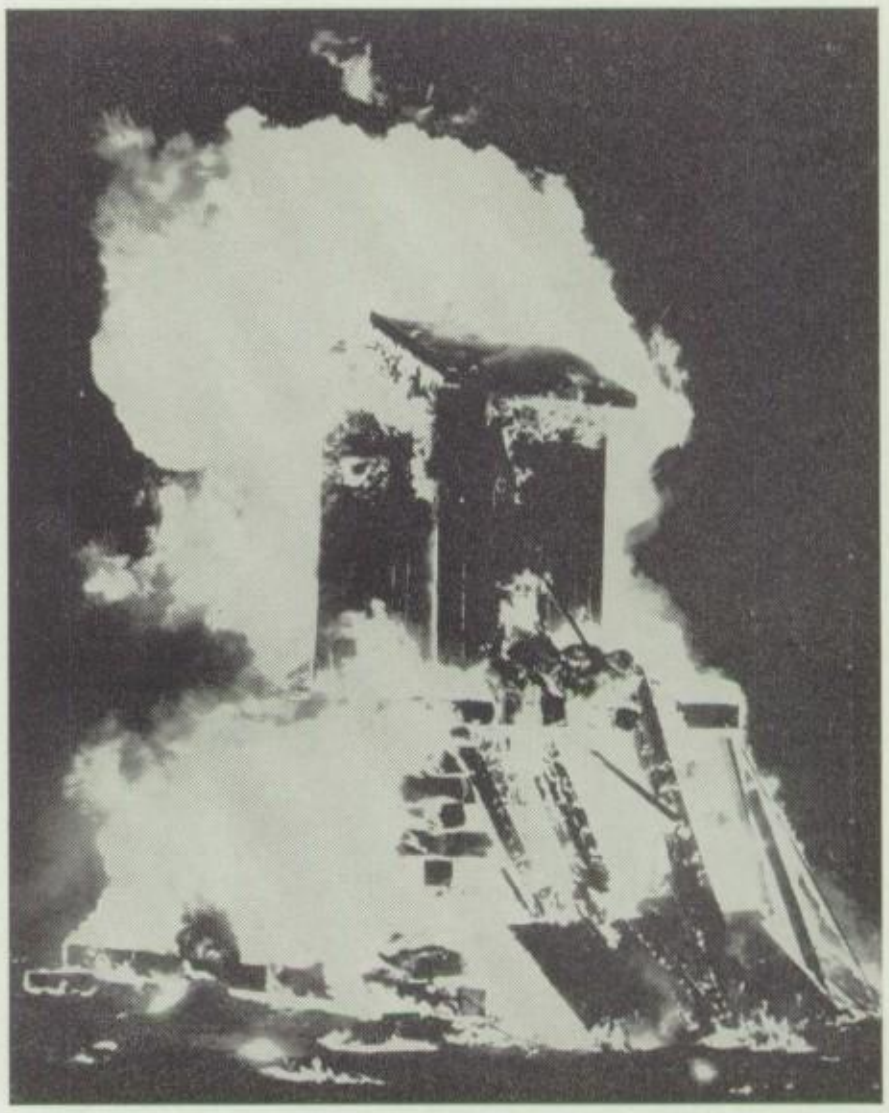
And Clamor . . .

Combining a raging bonfire, a regal coronation of a lovely queen, and an exciting game with Gerstmeyer High School, Schulte's third annual homecoming climaxed the gridiron season. Lynn Fruehauf was chosen queen by the student body and crowned by the co-captains of the football team. Her attendants, ladies-in-waiting, and escorts contributed to the impressiveness of the ceremony. To rouse the crowd to the peak of school spirit, the senior boys, whose privilege it is to set the stage for this drama, hoisted Tech in effigy to the top of the funeral pyre before setting it aflame. As the flames of the bonfire rose higher, shouts and cheers reechoed through the crowd to wish Schulte a most successful homecoming.



School spirit saturates the air as the conflagration leaps skyward.

A miniature "Tech" is raised onto a truck to be carried to its final resting place on the Schulte football field.

James Funk and senior "buddies" appear to be the center of attraction as they raise Tech in effigy the night before the big game.

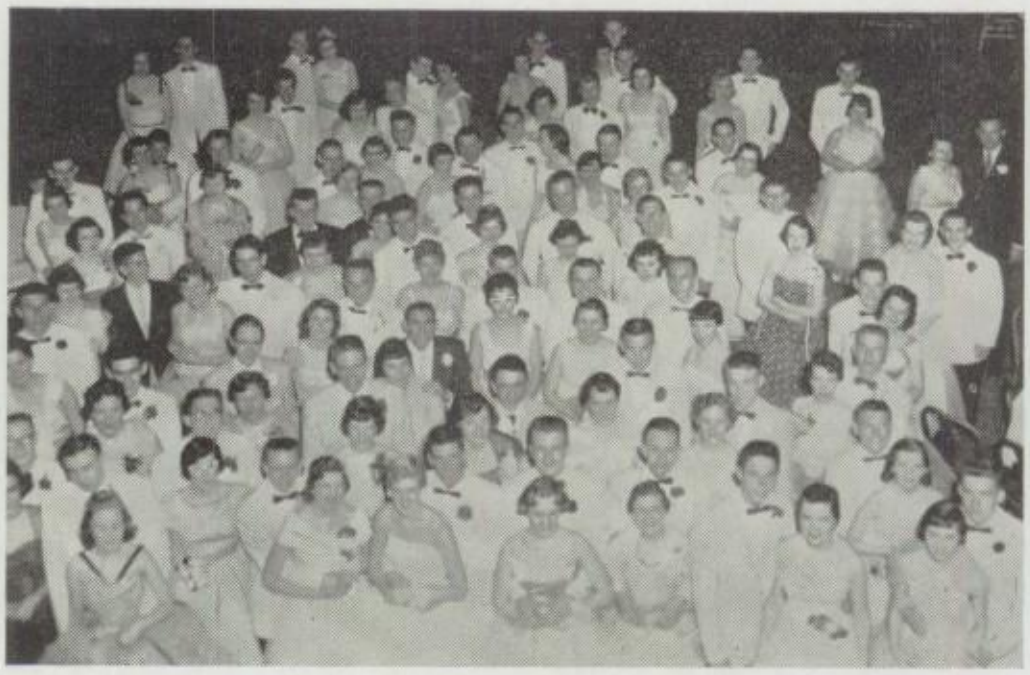
Chosen by her junior class, our lovely Prom queen is Miss Suzanne Murphy.

"Stairway to the Stars" . . .

A sparkling galaxy of loveliness and music surrounded the socialites as they ascended into the splendor of the 1956 annual Junior Prom.



A starry-eyed group of dancers pause after the grand march—climax of a memorable evening.

Lovely queen of the Snow Whirl is Miss Darby Costello, the regal lady of Schulte's winter highlight.

"Silver Bells" . . .

Schulte's activity for the Christmas holidays highlighted the entire season when the senior class sponsored its annual dance. Carrying out the chosen theme, the seniors decorated the Mayflower Room with seasonal ornaments. The presiding queen was chosen by popular demand of the senior class. The 1956 Snow Whirl gave a finishing touch to the festivities of the winter months.

Sitting this one out at the Easter Dance are: Suzanne Kammerer, Jack Schnyder, Tony Burget, Jane Drew, Margaret Blueher, Larry DeRolf.

Special dances, such as Friday night sock-hops or other informal dances gave Schulteans a light side to life at school. During the year on various occasions, each class or organization sponsored them for the entire student body.

Cafeteria or Gym Floors,

Much fun is had by all at Schulte's Easter Dance of 1956. Smiles of the crowd depict their enjoyment of the evening.

"April Showers" is the theme of the Girls' Athletic Association dance held in the school cafeteria each year for the student body.

D. J. Jamboree, first of its kind in Terre Haute, featuring Thomas Stergar as the evening's disc jockey, is the Schultean's first and very successful sock-hop.

Schulte's Ballroom . . .

Major sock-hops held in the school gym this year have contributed much merry-making to the social life of the students. On Friday nights our gym usually took on a new look as the platters spun and the teen-agers danced to the swinging music of the popular recording artists of today.

Theme of this dance sponsored by the junior class is explained by the lettering on the stage curtains. Everyone is dressed accordingly, and prizes are awarded for the most original and comical costumes.

Carnival chairmen draw up the floor plan for the biggest festivity of the school year. They are: Sister Winifred Ann, Sister Winifred, Mr. Joseph Frisz, and Mr. Emmanuel Fusco.

Schulte's Own

The fourth annual carnival of Schulte, held March 3, 1957, proved to be the largest and best in the four years. Bright colors filled the gym as each homeroom competed against one another. Senior homeroom 6's Magnolia Manor carried off two honors: first prize for originality, beauty, and economy; and for netting the highest profit. Junior homeroom 8A's The General Store won second prize, and homerooms 9, 5, and 4 tied for third place honors with their booths: Little Las Vegas, Flower Shop, and Parcel Post. Schulte's 1957 carnival was one of which the faculty and student body could well be proud.

Magnolia Manor supplies visitors with out-of-this-world chicken dinners.

The General Store proves to be one of the most attractive booths at the carnival.

Mardi Gras . . .

A transformed gym greeted crowds who attended Schulte's annual Mardi Gras. A doll house, Kiddieland, attractive refreshment stands, a luring Penny Pitch, a tempting cake walk, and gaily decorated booths contrived to give a portrayal of Schultean ingenuity.

To test your luck—Schulte has Little Las Vegas at your convenience.

Penny Pitch and concession booths draw crowds during the entire day.

The "Venite Adoremus" cast as they appeared in the finale of the tableaux.

Schulte's Glee

The Glee Club under the able direction of Sister Mary Huberta presented picturesque tableaux for its Christmas program. Sandra Whitman and James Funk read the Biblical account of the Nativity while each scene was portrayed on stage by members of the mixed chorus. Various lighting and colors gave the presentation an awe-inspiring appearance.

Saint Joseph and the Virgin Mary, portrayed by Glee Club members, give us a true picture of this ever-famous nativity scene.

Silhouettes bring to our mind the beauty of the glorious first Christmas.

"Gay Nineties" review provides refreshing entertainment on Parents' Night. Jack Schnyder and Sue Higgins enact the song, "Bicycle Built For Two," as Glee Club members join in the chorus.

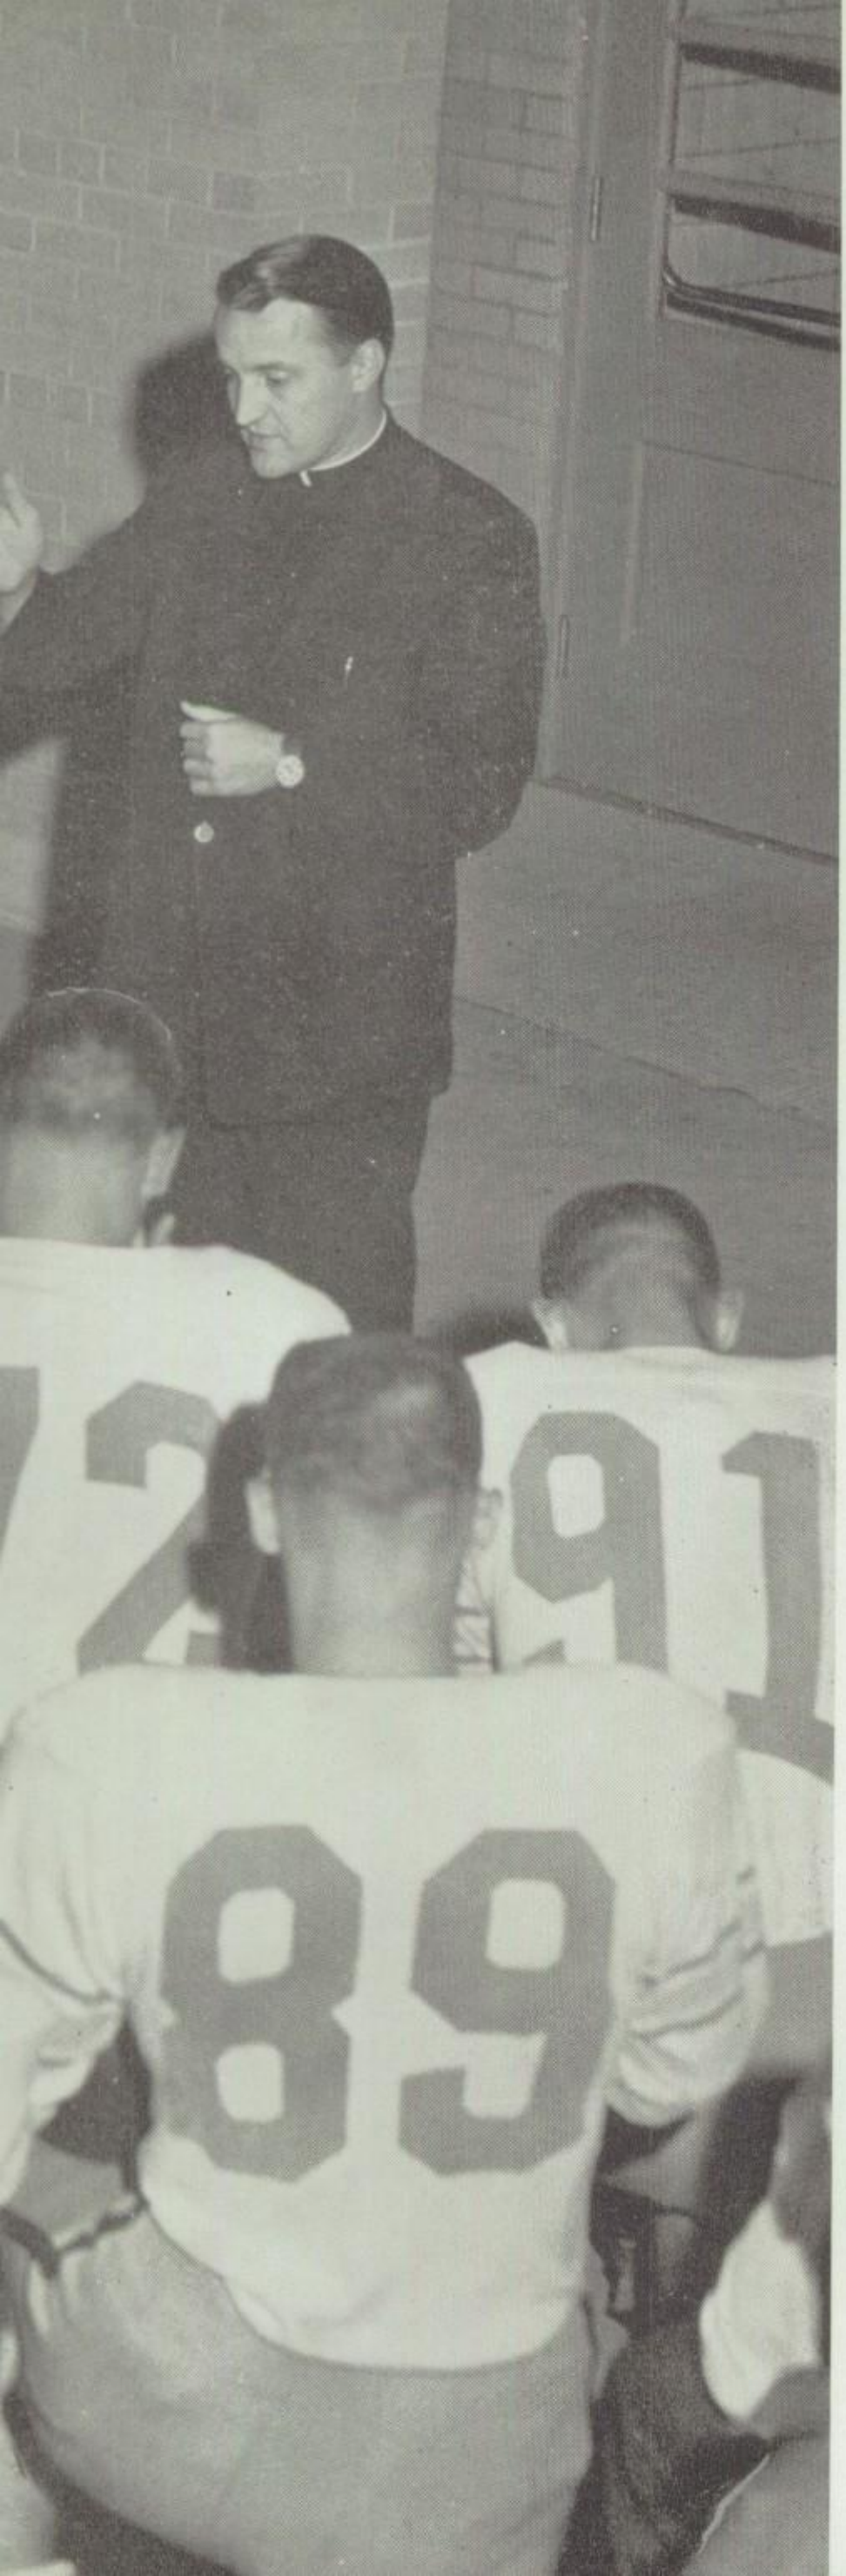
Club Presenting . . .

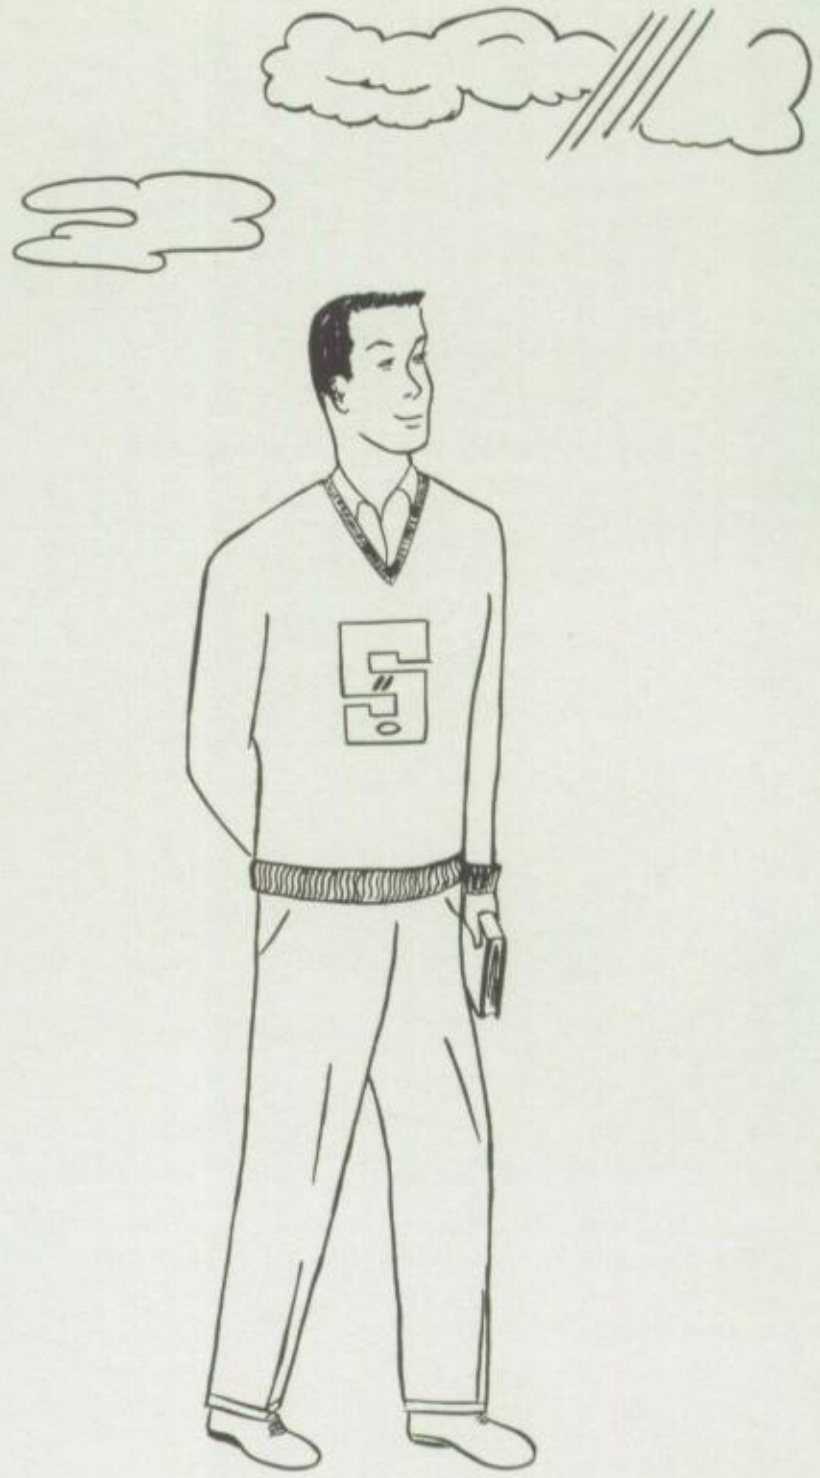
Meeting every occasion with the appropriate songs and dances has been only part of the program undertaken by the Glee Club. Blending of voices to produce four-part harmony has been another aim of this active group.

Affording amusement on Parents' Night, members of the Glee Club turned the calendar back to 1890 when they presented a variety of numbers popular in that era.

Another outstanding event on their schedule was ""Tis A Great Day", a sparkling presentation which brought smiles to all shamrock wearers, Irish or not.

Two scenes from ""Tis A Great Day" display the enthusiasm of the lads and lassies while participating in Gaelic style for a St. Patrick's Day celebration.





"And He advanced . . . in grace with men"

Luke II, 52

Keynote of Schulte's participation in sports is the development of true sportsmanship. This is a quality possessed by athletes who wish to distinguish themselves as having Christ-like respect for man and high regard for every opponent. Advancing in physical grace should accompany the daily increase of sanctifying grace in each athlete.

Hike, Gold, Hut 1 . . .

Schulte's Golden Bears opened their gridiron campaign by losing to Cathedral, 20 to 6. Not being discouraged by this defeat, the Bears launched a victory streak by downing the Dugger Bulldogs, 32 to 0. In this game Dick O'Leary, senior halfback, showed outstanding performance. Dick was permitted to retire reluctantly to the bench at the end of the first half with four touchdowns to his credit. The second half was well controlled by Schulte's second and third teams.

Again Schulte cast the blanket of victory over their opponent, this time over the Brazil Red Devils with a 26 to 0 climax. It was like a one-act play with the Golden Bears acting as the main characters.

Schulte and Danville Schlarman clashed in a traditional rivalry wherein the superior power of the Golden Bears proved dominant with a 33 to 13 victory.

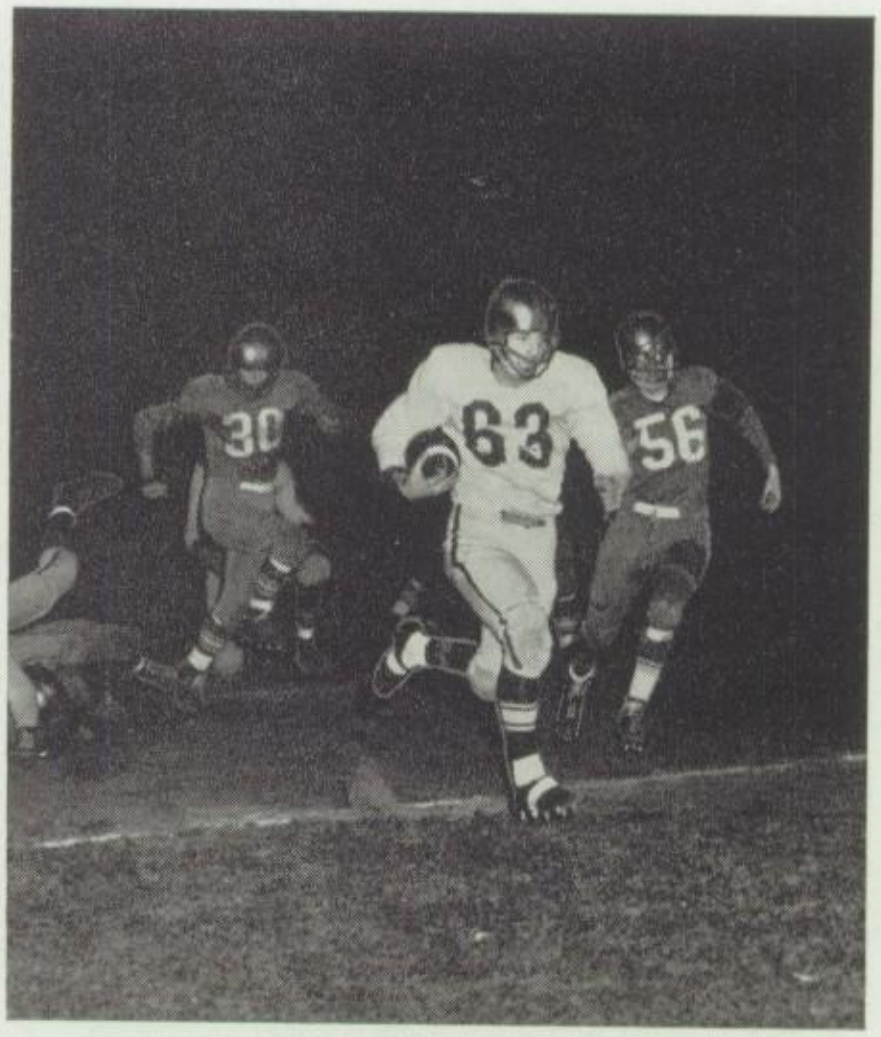
With high spirits, the Schulte Bears' continued thirst for conquest was manifested in a decisive victory of 52 to 6 over Gerstmeyer Tech, and further emphasized in the 51 to 6 triumph over Bicknell.

A plunge into Wiley's line can be very rough going—as halfback Mike Merrill finds out.

Wearied by the first half, the team relaxes and attentively listens to the instructions of Coach Pete Varda.

Patience Pays Dividends . . .

Schulte's Golden Bears tallied their sixth straight victory by beating the Linton Miners, 39 to 0. With a score of 26 to 0 at the beginning of the second half, Coach Pete Varda was thoroughly convinced that his reserves were well qualified to meet the competition, and his decision of playing the second and third string varsity was justified when they made the additional two touchdowns in the final quarter. The victory over the Crawfordsville Athenians gave the Golden Bears seven straight games of triumph, but much to the lament of the Schulte fans the winning streak was snapped by the Wiley Red Streaks with a score of 21 to 6. Eager to vindicate their loss to Wiley, the Golden Bears fought with high determination and climaxed their season of 8 victories and 2 defeats with a 26 to 16 triumph over the Garfield Purple Eagles.



Taking head of halftime instructions, halfback Dick O'Leary finds a hole in the Garfield defense just where the coach said it would be.

Indispensable . . .

Enthusiastic underclass athletes recorded a successful gridiron season, showing promise of topping every opponent in the future. This enthusiasm was matched by an invincible determination to win over all odds.

Issuing equipment, taping ankles, and many other duties fall to the managers—Tony Donovan, Jim Giffel, Tom Cahill, and Joe Cahill.

Joe Dienhart, line coach at Purdue, thrills the crowd with his unusual wit and humorous stories at the annual football banquet.

Awaited Awards . . .

Dick O'Leary, 4-year letterman, receives the Les Kniptasch Memorial Award from Frank Kelly.

Hal Heazeltine is presented the Knights of Columbus Sportsmanship Award by Joe Waskieviez.

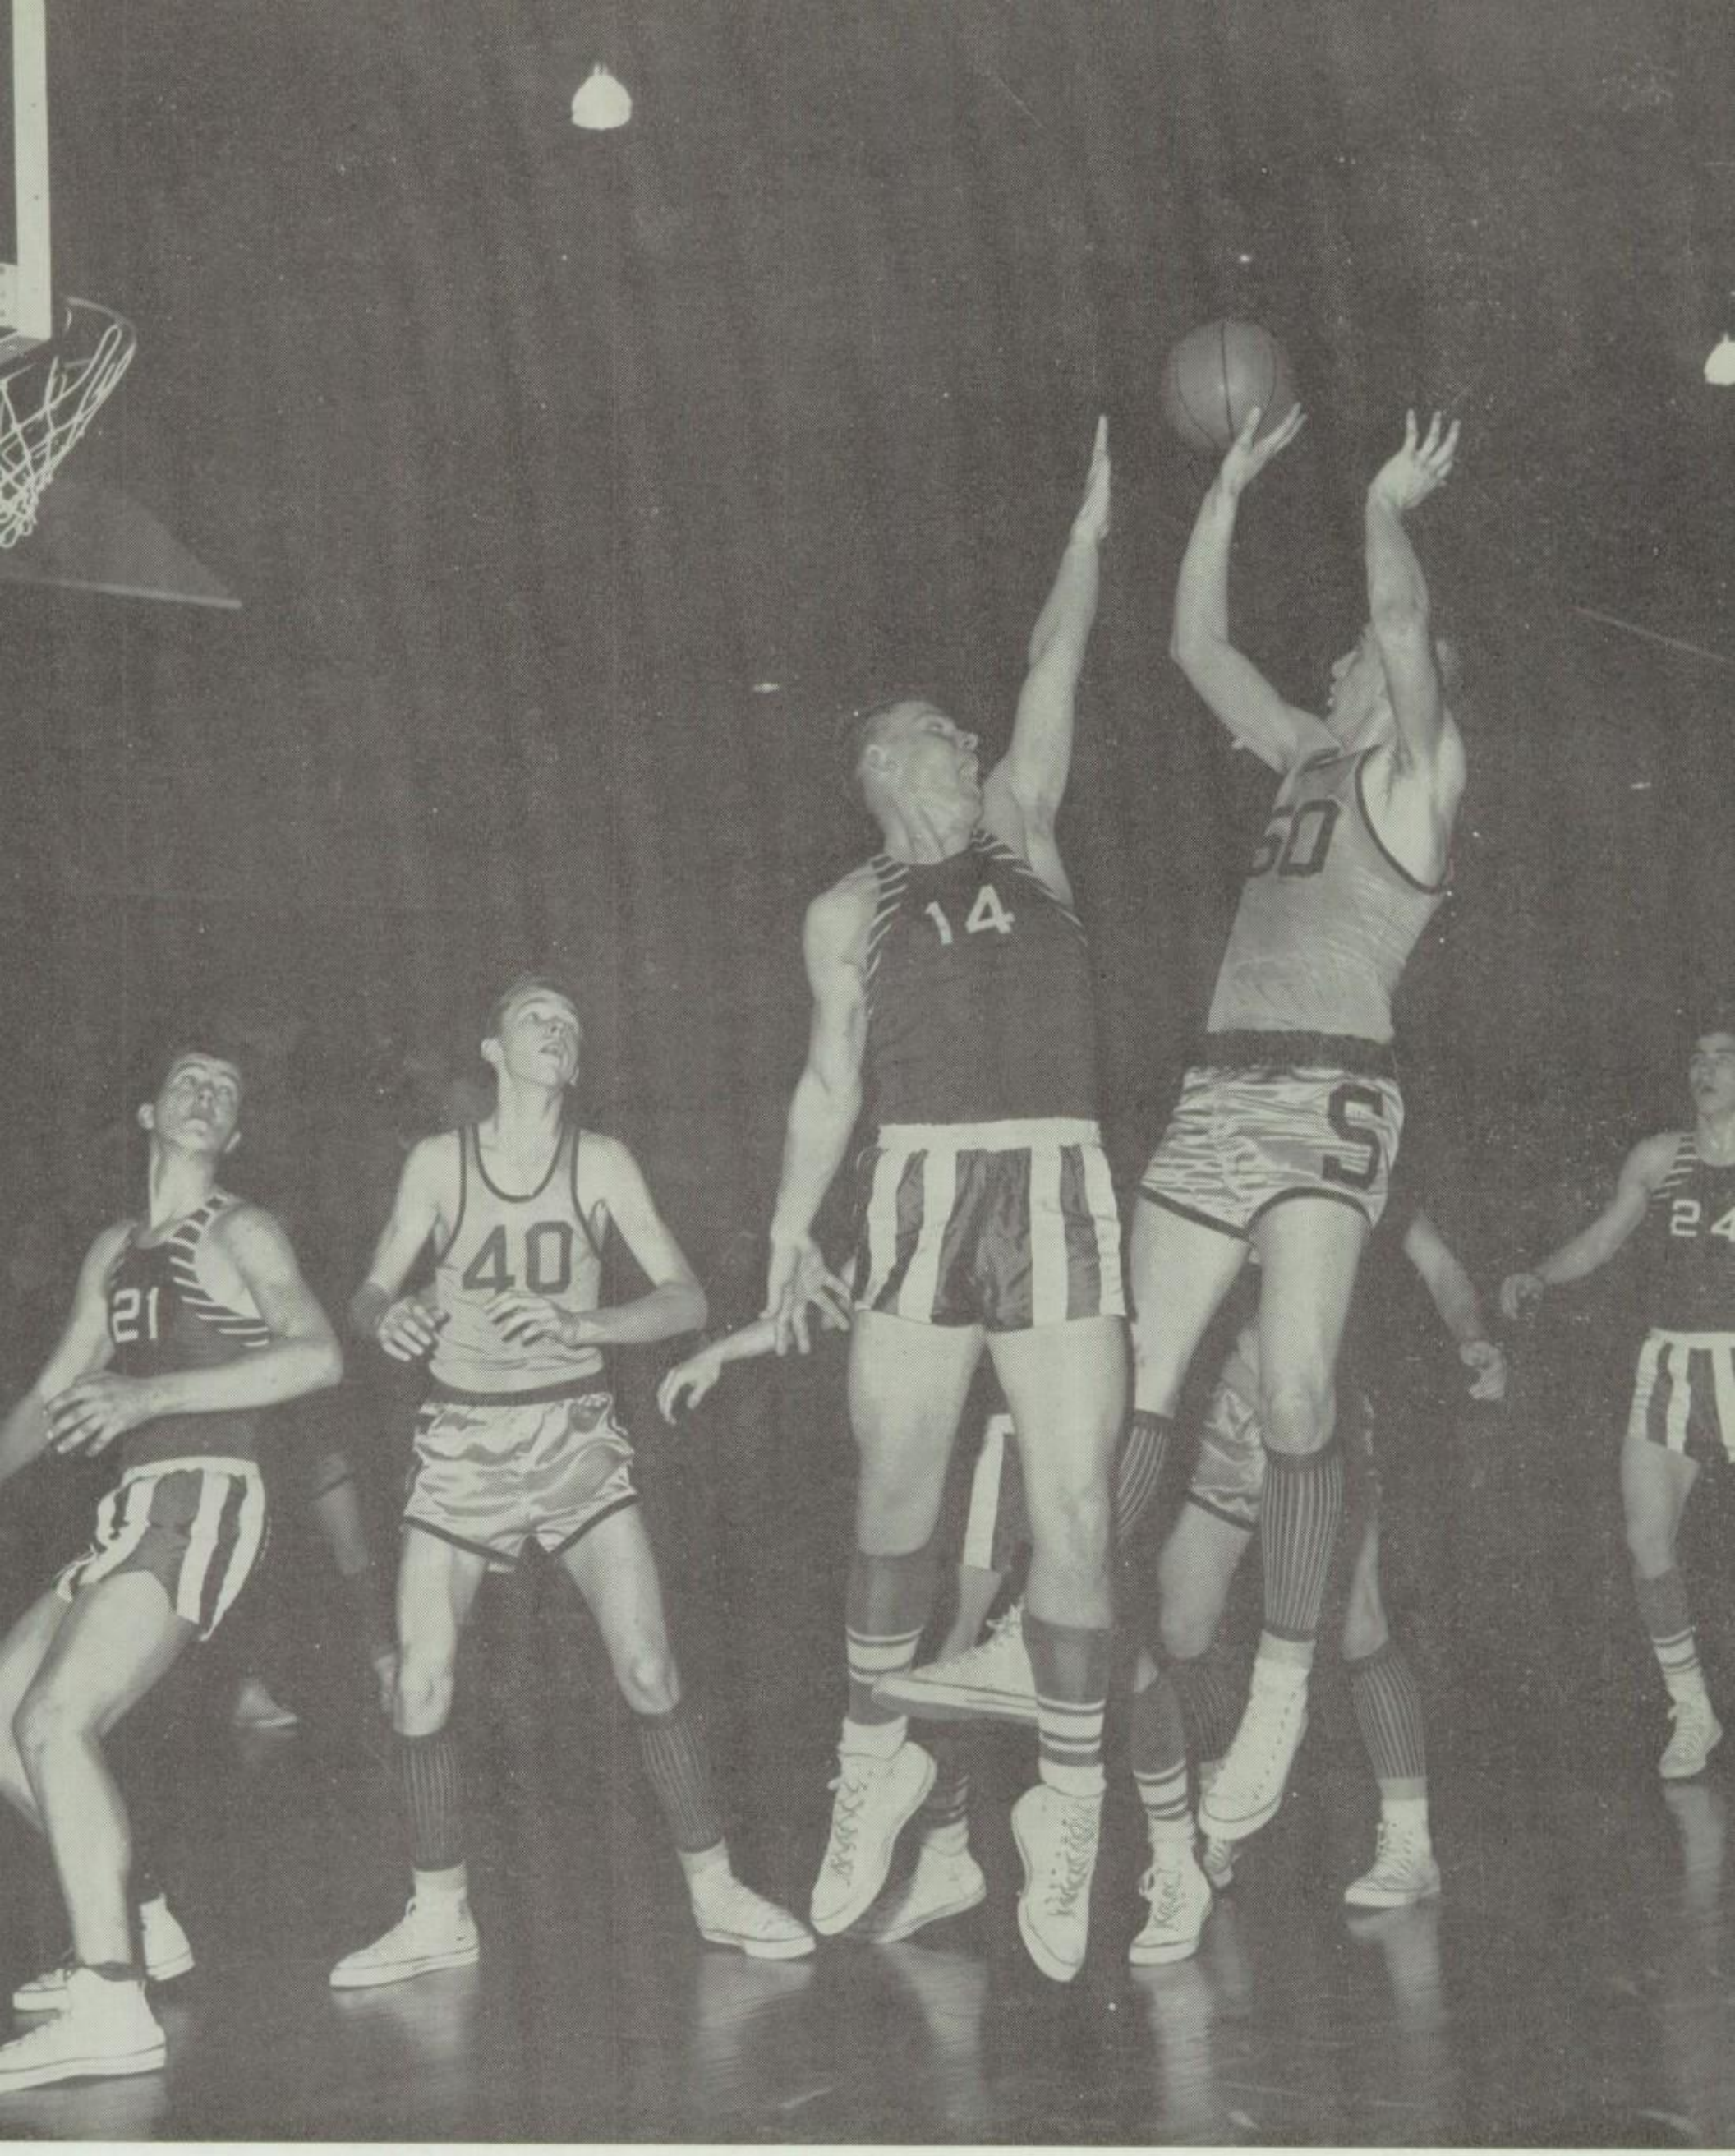
Junior Varsity cheerleaders have already realized the value of the confidence in a team needed to keep that team in high spirits. With assistance from the varsity cheerleaders, zest was added to all of the Junior Varsity football and basketball games by these three girls.

Junior Varsity cheerleaders include Jane Drew, Alice Klug, and Elizabeth Evelo.

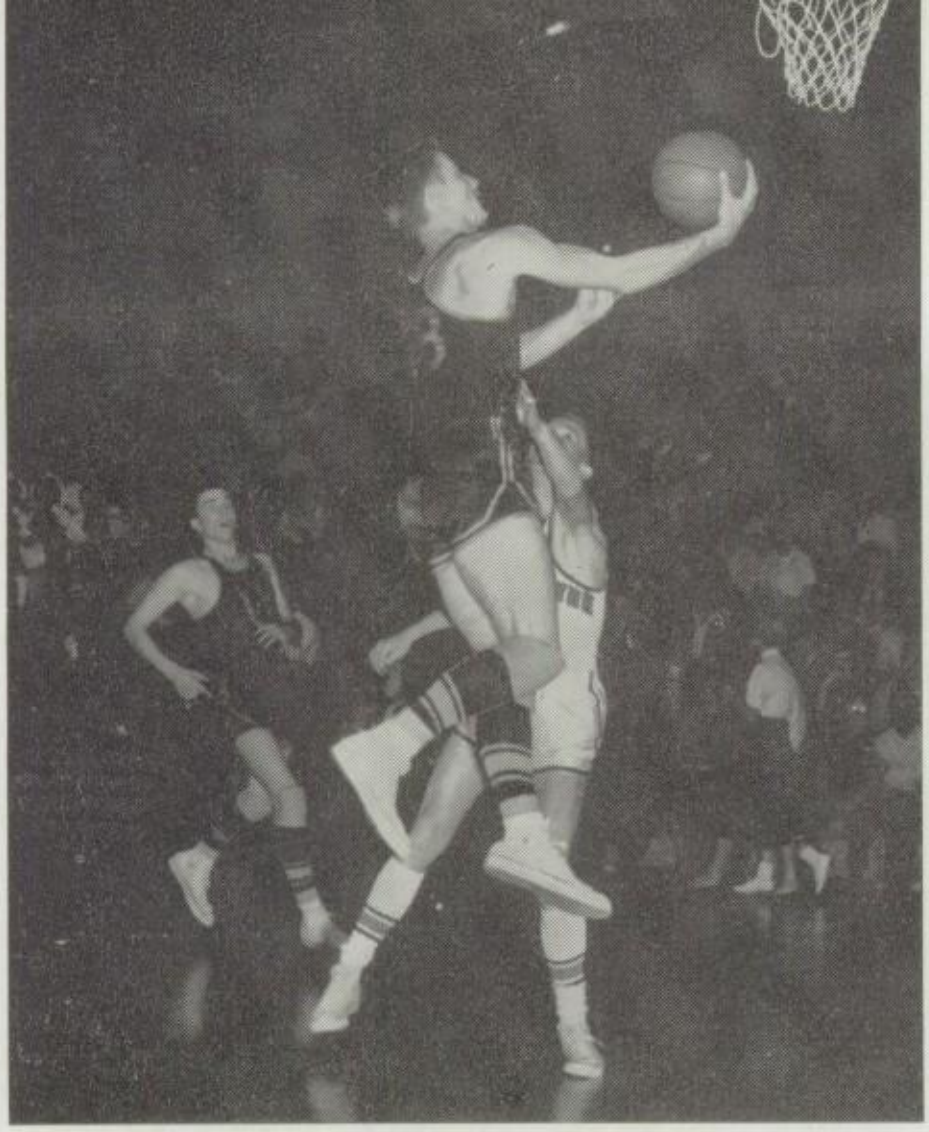
Go, Go, Go . . .

Varsity cheerleaders with a few years of experience behind them knew the value of 100 per cent school backing for the football and basketball teams. Well-organized cheering blocks were under the direction of these five girls, and the spirit of Schulte High was well exemplified at all competitive contests.

Joy Foulkes, Dolores Burdick, Marianne Morgan, Margie Cahill, and Jerrie Goda supply plenty of spirit when the Varsity plays.



He Stops, Jumps, Fires . . .



Dick O'Leary adds two more to the score during the Gerstmeyer game with his specialty, the lay up.

Late in the third quarter of the State game, Mike Higgins jumps—and connects.

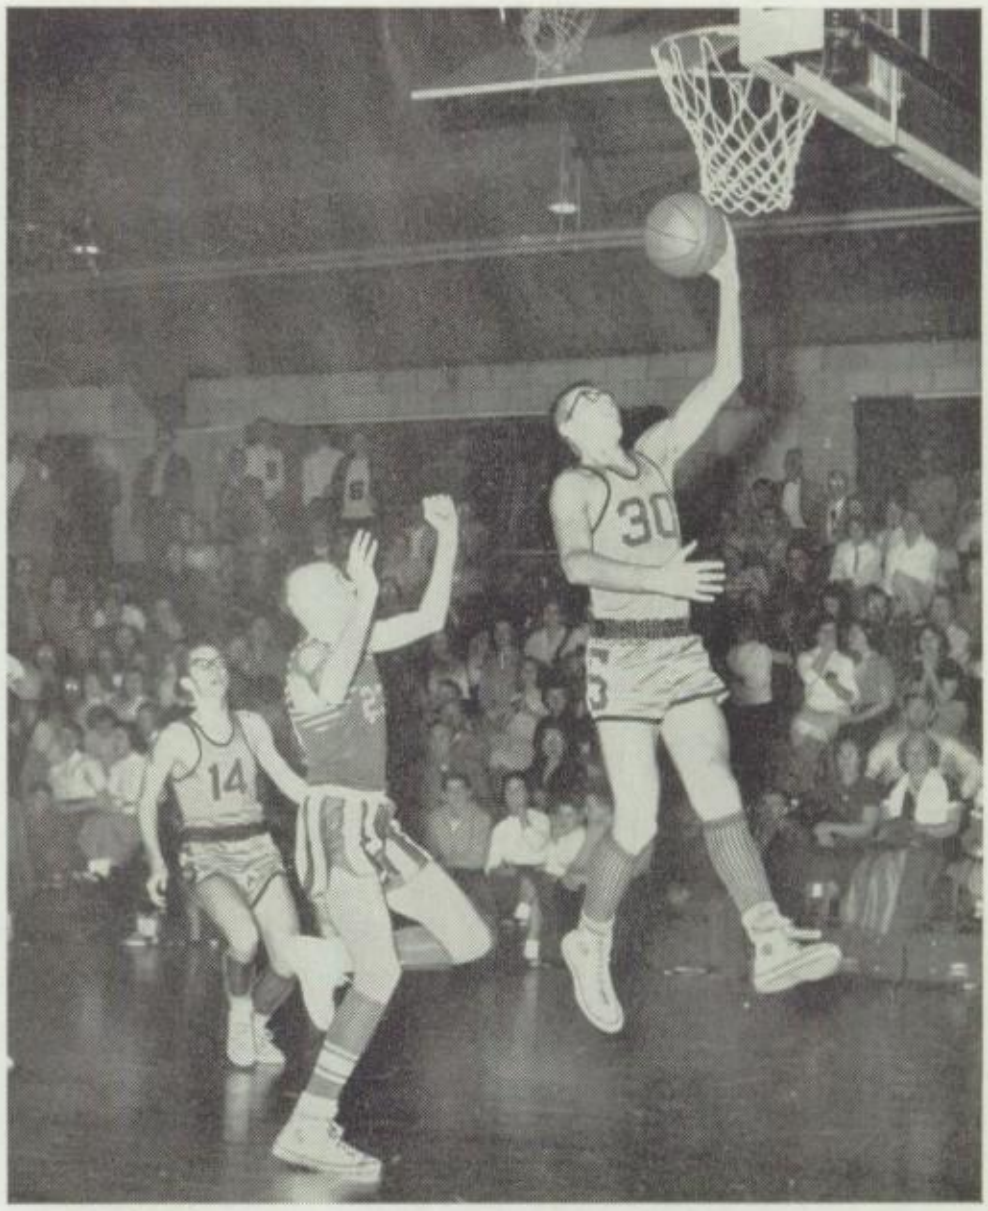
Dormant nearly a year,

Forward Larry Neidlinger attempts two on a fast break in the Scecina game.

The sparkling spirit of the Golden Bears was dented at the beginning of the season by a loss to Brazil, 64 to 58, but it was regained with five consecutive victories from Montezuma, Switz City, Otter Creek, Glenn and Scecina. The winning streak was halted as the Bears were beaten twice in a row; first by Gerstmeyer, then by Wiley, two city rivals of Schulte. Prior to the Wabash Valley Preliminary Tournament, Schulte downed Honey Creek, 46 to 30, and Concannon, 68 to 50. In the Valley Prelim Tourney, the Bears eliminated Riley, 57 to 36, and Wiley, 46 to 41. Wiley was our southside competition that beat us earlier in the season, 64 to 35.

the hardwood set comes to life . . .

Following the two victories, the Golden Bears met defeat from State, another city school, which eliminated Schulte from the tourney. The final score was 42 to 37. After the defeat from State, the Bears' fighting spirit and the desire to triumph came back to life again. The next game that Schulte played was with State. It was like a return match, and we're proud that the Golden Bears came out on top in a most deserved victory of 55 to 46. The Bears, finding the taste of victory very pleasing, continued on and defeated the Catholic team from Schlarman of Danville and Valley High School of West Terre Haute.



Clarence Reedy—too fast for his Honey Creek opponent—scores another goal.

Tom Kulinski hurries for a lay-up to avoid interference from the husky Concannon guard.

Schulte's next contest was a hard-fought game all the way, and the Golden Bears had the lead throughout the first three quarters. In the last minutes of the fourth quarter, the Purple Eagles tied the score and then scored the last two points with only two seconds left in the game to make the final score 49 to 47. Although the Bears outplayed the Eagles, the final score was the holding decision. The Golden Bears didn't let the effects of defeat discourage them, and victory was soon again on Schulte's side. The four remaining teams in the scheduled season, Washington Catholic, Dugger, Vincennes Catholic and Saint John's were all beaten by the Schulte Golden Bears, which gave the Bears a record of 14 victories and 4 defeats.

Ron Sullivan and a Concannon player scramble for a loose ball early in the second quarter of the first game of Schulte's sectional play.

Tournament Time . . .

The most thrilling part of the 1956-57 Varsity basketball season was the State Tournament. The Golden Bears practiced hard preparing for their first opponent, and it paid off in a victory of 60 to 55 over Concannon. By defeating State High 64 to 54, the Bears were scheduled to meet Gerstmeyer Tech to battle for the sectional championship. Schulte clashed with Tech in a strenuous contest but was eliminated by the Black Cats 64 to 54. This concluded a good season of hardwood competition for the Golden Bears.

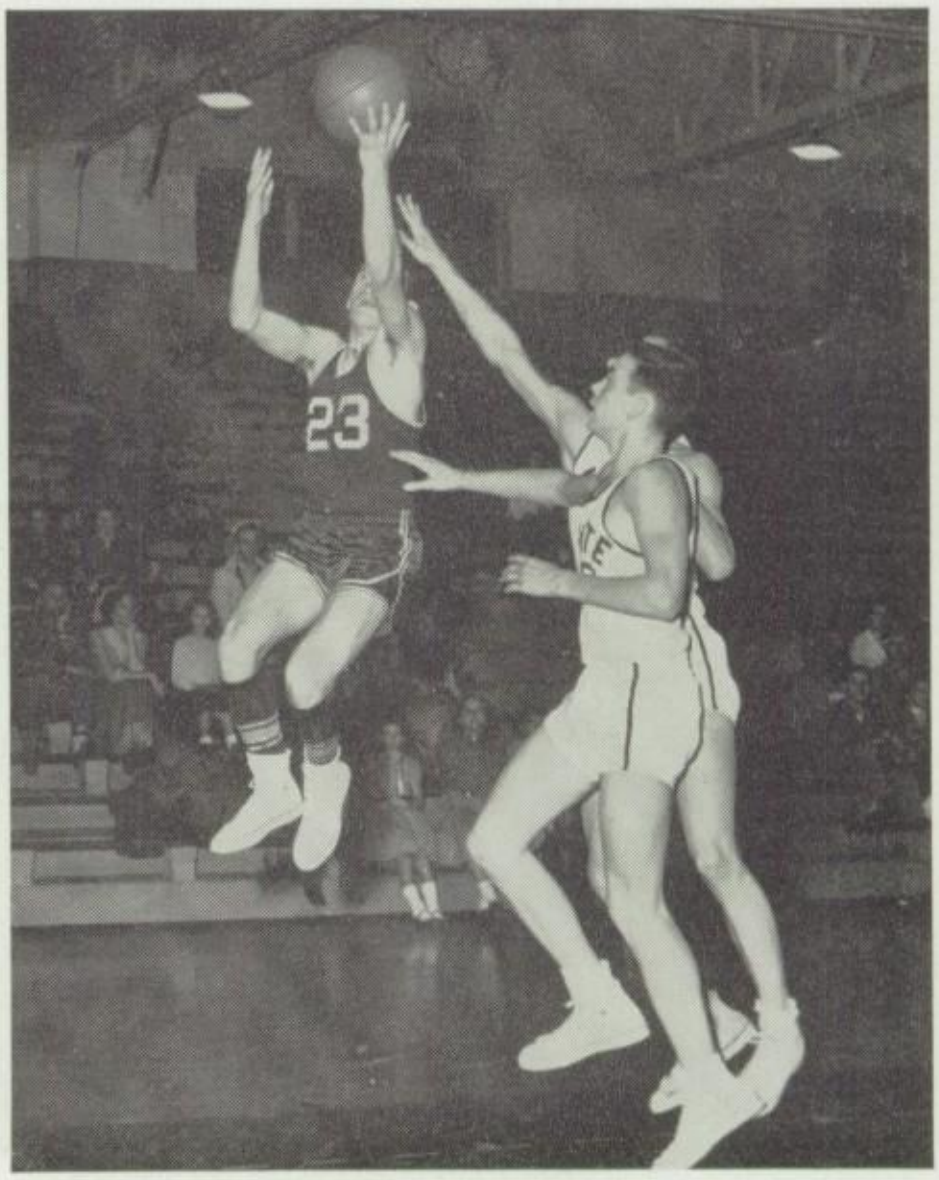
Fighting Cubs . . .

The Junior Varsity showed outstanding possibilities of meeting future hardwood competition by their exhibition of superb ball handling and true athletic stamina in their hard-fought, victorious season.



Joe Card towers over a pair of State defenders for two points.

No need for State to rebound when Larry Pesavento shoots.

Up For Two . . .

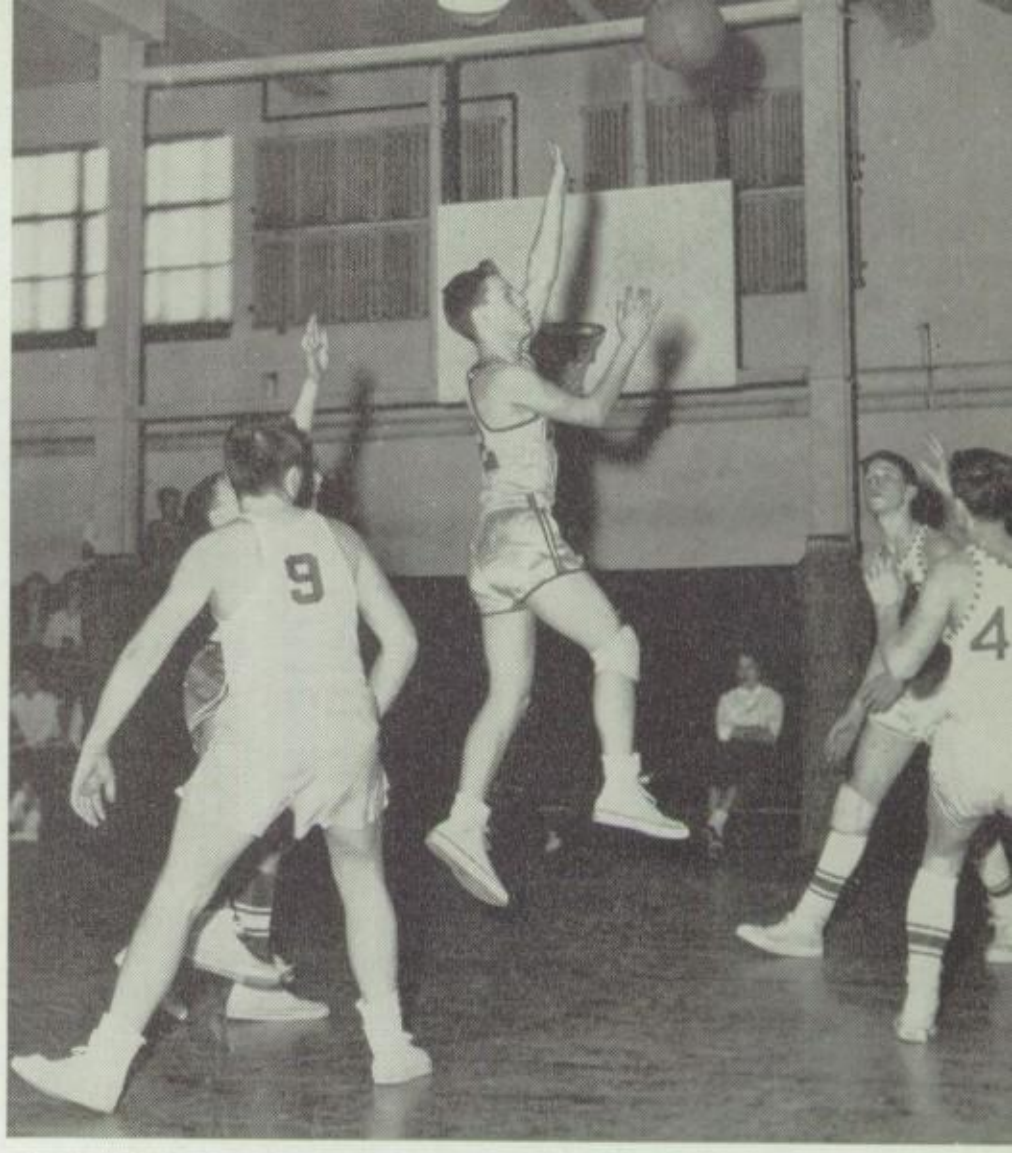
Physical determination proved that victory can be had when the inclination is strong enough. The Junior Varsity's completed list of wins and losses verified this fact, with 14 victories and 4 defeats.

With a definite intention, Frank Hatcher shoots for the basket and scores two points.

Larry McQuade sinks two more points despite Honey Creek's defense.

The Battling Beginners . . .

Acquiring the experience that will be helpful in the near future, the freshman team fought heartily, and gained acclaim in a successful season of 12 victories and 4 defeats.



John Kovach breaks away from his Honey Creek guard and scores in the third quarter.

Guests in the crowded cafeteria on the night of the annual basketball banquet were pleasingly entertained by the head basketball coach of Xavier University, Edward Null, whose inspiring comments concluded the Golden Bears' 1956-57 season in a memorable manner.

Outstanding Personalities . . .

Dick O'Leary is honored with the Fusco Outstanding Basketball Player Award.

The Paul Troth Outstanding Spirit Award is received by Ron Sullivan from Bill Fenoglio, senior class president.

Father Beechem presents the Free Throw Trophy to Dick O'Leary for his 66 per cent foul shot average.

Warm-weather Athletes . . .

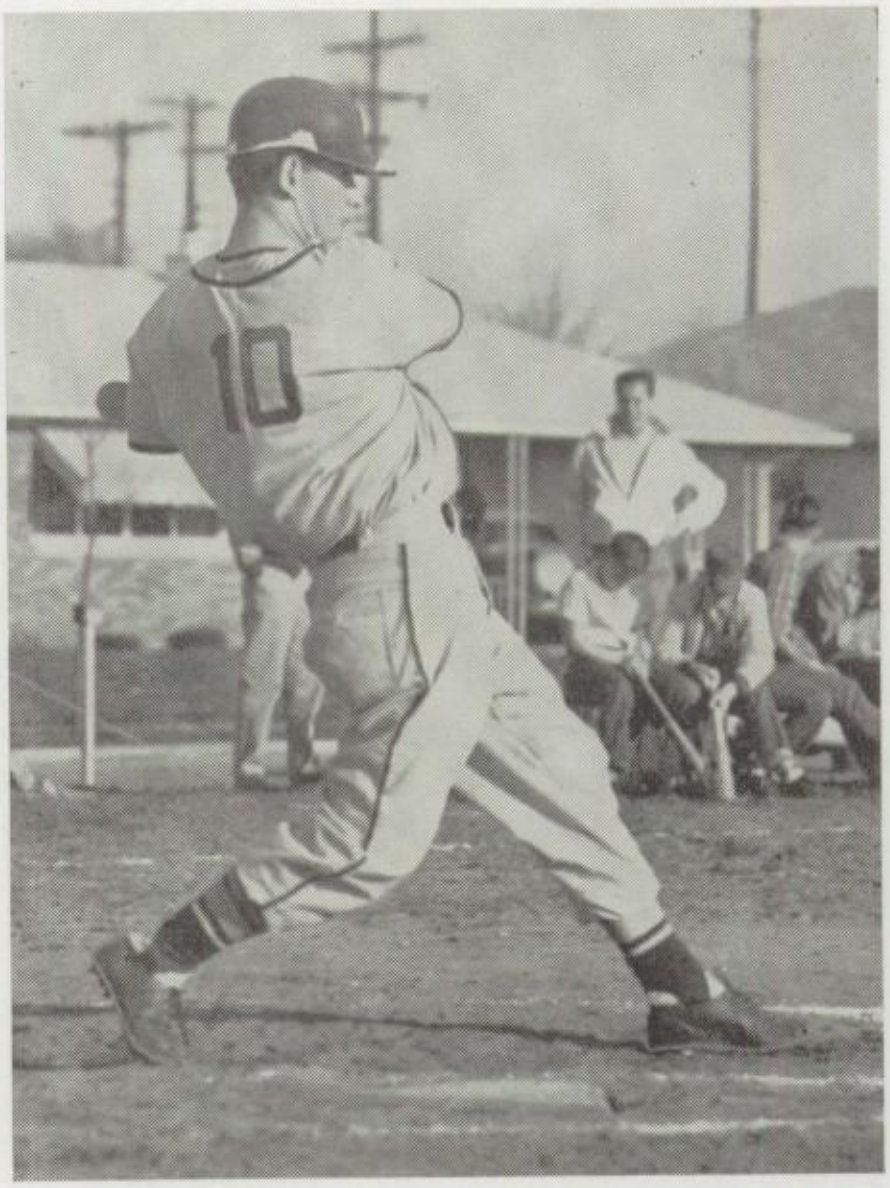
The conclusion of the athletic season began with training for track in preparation for the first taste of spring competition.

Junior Hugh McLeish adds five points as he breaks the tape in the 100 yard dash.

Ben Burdick starts his ascent in the pole vault event.

Batter Up . . .

The "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" cry came in along with the spring heat as the Schulte baseball team pounded the hard ground preparing for their long-awaited season.



Disproving the theory that "Pitchers can't hit," Bob Cseszko lines one for extra bases during the Valley game.

Heading for the fairway are: Standing—"Coach" Father Beechem, Joe Darbutt, Bernard Roby, Jim Peck, Jeffery Lew, Bob Scott, Jerry Sullivan. Kneeling—Jim Funk, Bill Bindley, Mike Higgins, Jim Quinlan.

The Basic Strokes . . .

Challenging summer sports such as tennis and golf have increased in popularity among the Schulte students each year. Because sports such as these contain much individual competition, they have become a highly challenging type of entertaining exercise at Schulte.

"And He advanced in age . . ."

Luke II, 52

As the students of Schulte mature in physical age, their advancement in education progresses. With the assistance and care of the faculty, they achieve mental and physical adulthood in a truly Christ-like manner.

Father Beechem's hours at Schulte long exceed ours, but he undertakes his responsibilities with only the satisfaction of fulfilling his position as a perfect principal.

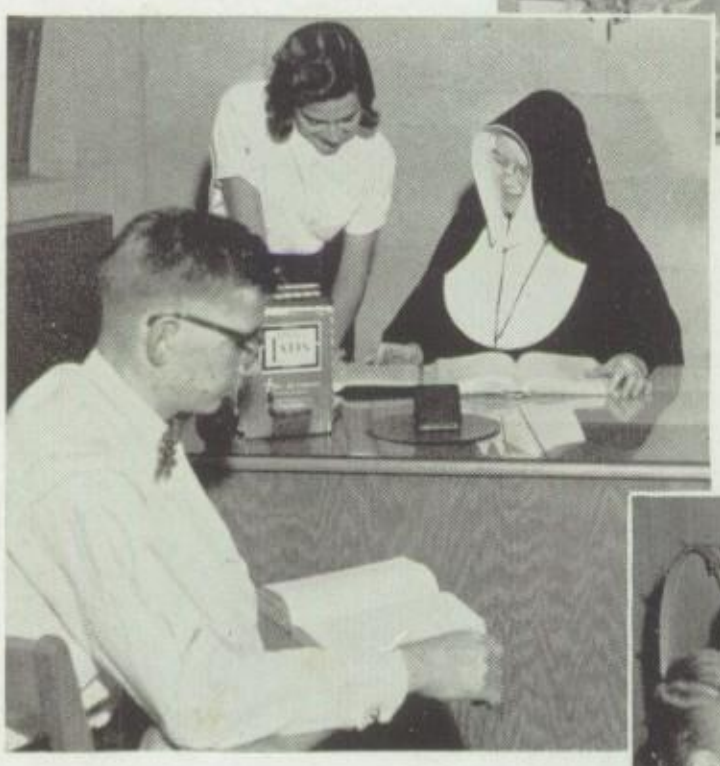
Those Who Counsel Us . . .

Father Beechem, principal, and Sister Mary Gertrude, dean of girls, assist each student with his own individual problem, concern, or inquiry. This valuable guidance, offered so generously, is greatly appreciated and cannot be repaid except with the sincere gratitude and prayers of the student body.

Sister Mary Gertrude talks over Mary Kaye Sullivan's current problem with great interest and much ease.

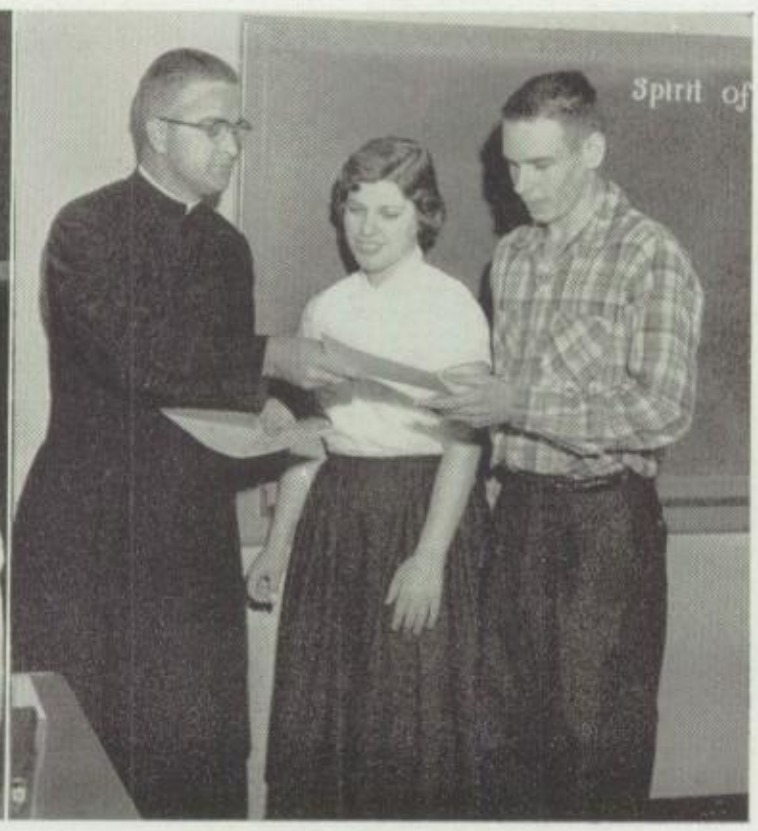
And Guide Us . . .

Father Dooley points out the easy way to understand sophomore religion to Claudia Hensley and James Bray. Father's other interest in Schulte is a freshman Latin class.



During the fifteen minute study period, Jolene Richetta seeks the advice of Sister Winifred Ann about the declension of a Latin verb, while Claude Jackson uses this valuable study time. Sister teaches Latin I, II, III, and English IV.

The lively band class advances rapidly because of Mr. Robert Garritson's keen interest in his pupils' work. Here he shows Charles Casper and Charlotte Connelly the correct timing of a band march.

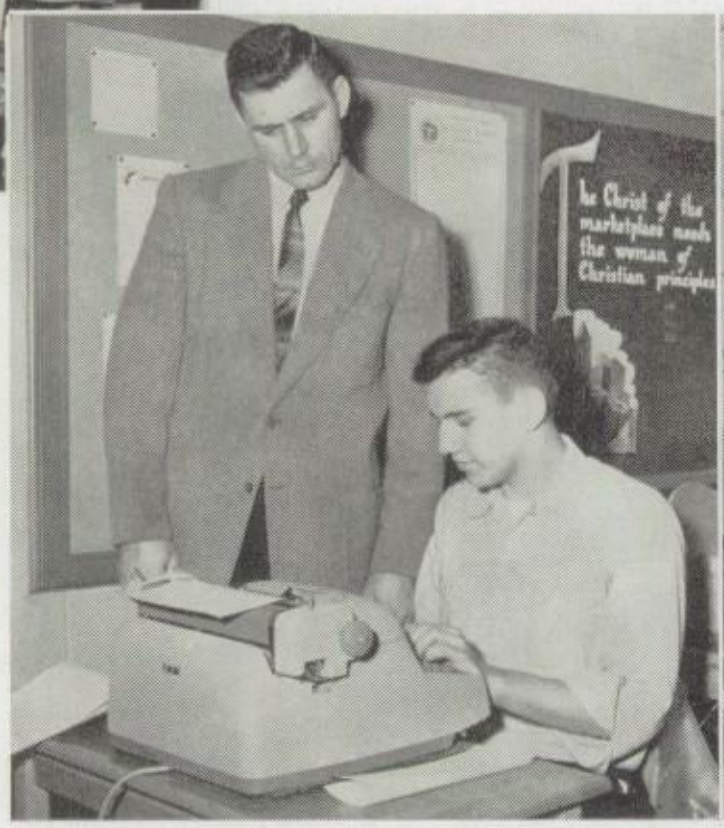


Miss Doris Bradley, typing and home economics teacher, gives Tom Roy a quick review of typewriter-handling rules.

Father Morley, sophomore religion teacher, shows Linda Welch and Michael Stephens that attention in class and diligent study are very important if they wish to understand the theology of the Mass.

Father Cody, instructor of third year religion, takes time for a question and answer period, while Richard Gottard takes down important notes.

With the return of Mr. Emmanuel Fusco, after an absence of a year and a half, a new course was added to the industrial arts department, arts and crafts. Mr. Fusco also teaches the mechanical drawing and printing classes.



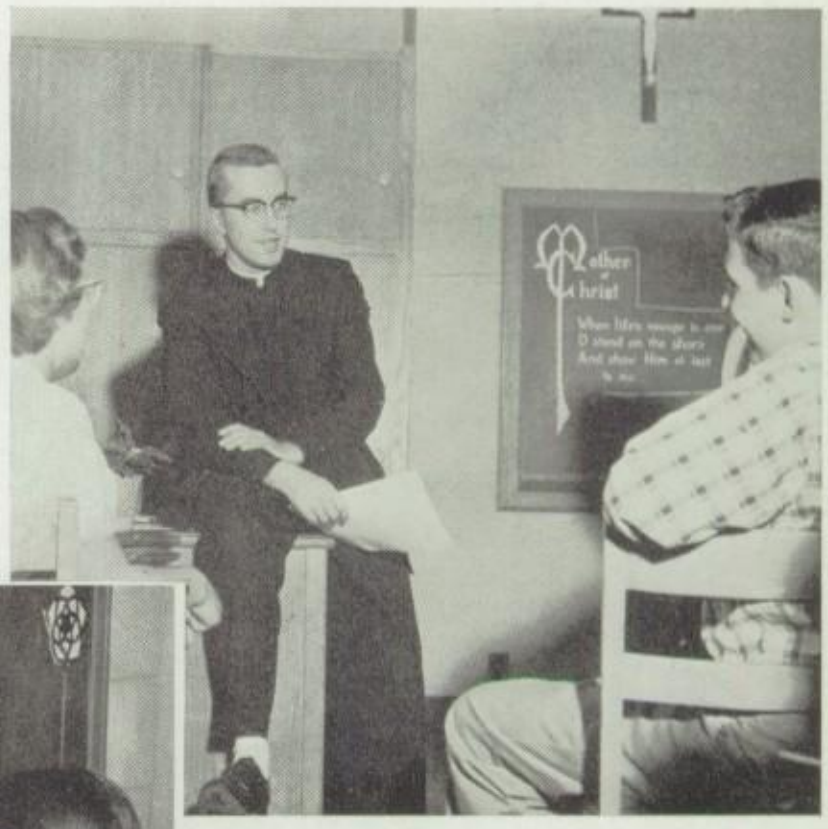
Our football coach, Mr. Peter Varda, is an instructor in typing and physical education, besides directing the Junior Varsity basketball team.

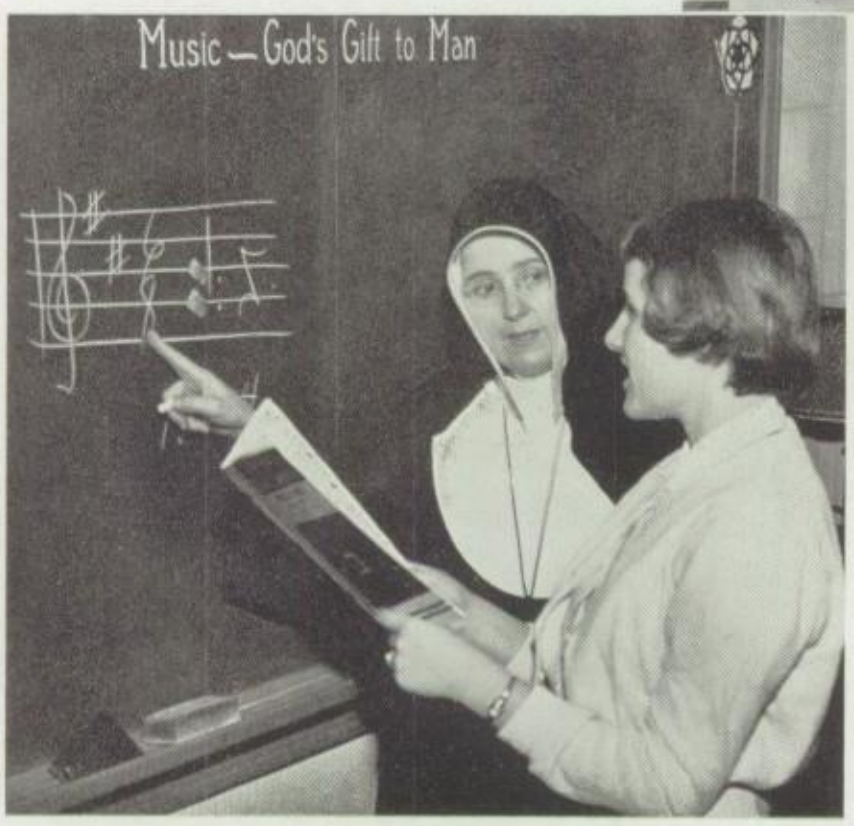
Enlighten Us . . .

Sister Ann Monica points out an unusual feature of the hydra to James Bray and Dorothy Oeding. Sister teaches a full-credit speech course, English II, and biology.

Mrs. William Clark, home economics and physical education teacher, watches as Sandra Martin and Joan Belfi put their cooking knowledge into action.

Father Fish guides the senior religion classes to understand principles of apologetics and marital conduct, important for young Catholic men and women who are about to enter the professional and business world on their own.

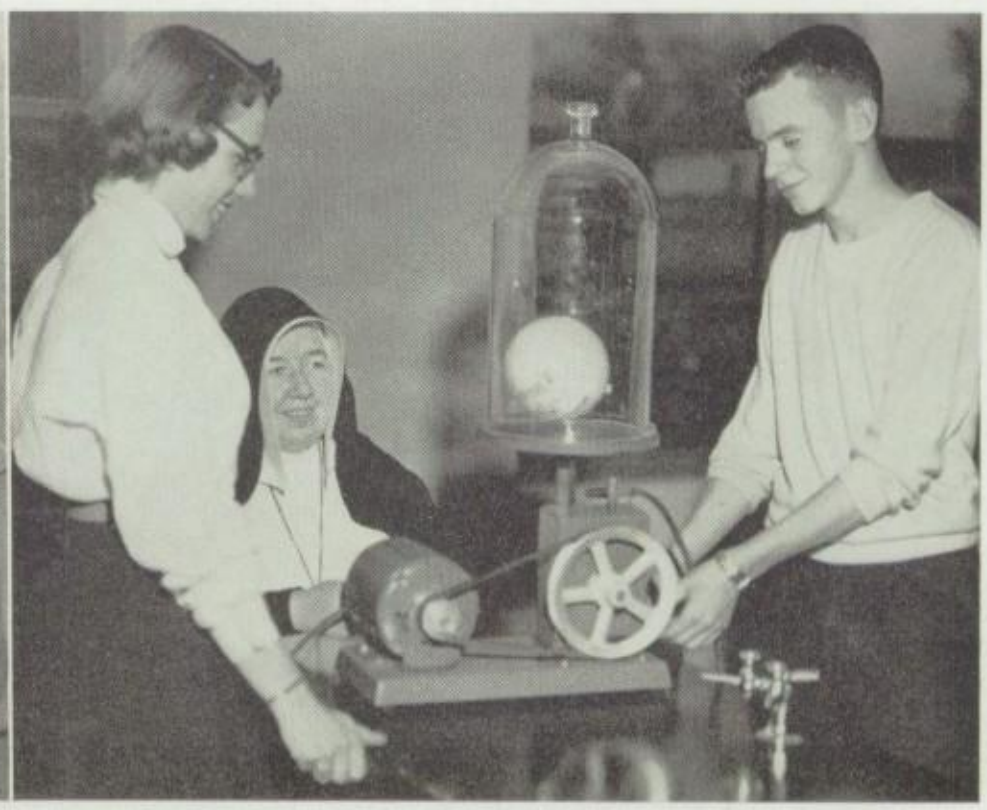




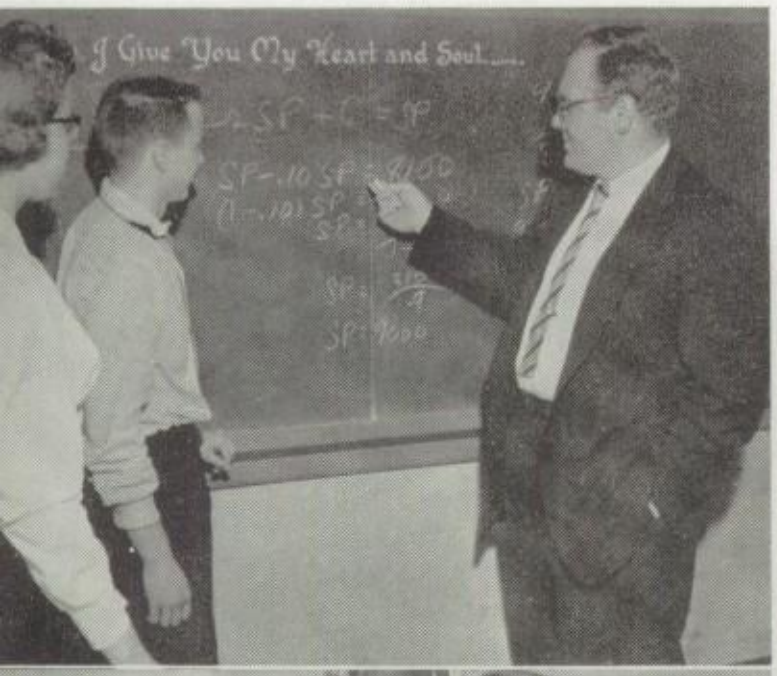
Musically-minded Sister Mary Huberta shows Martha Kulinski how to obtain the correct timing of a song. Sister has English I, music appreciation, and Glee Club classes.

Direct Us . . .

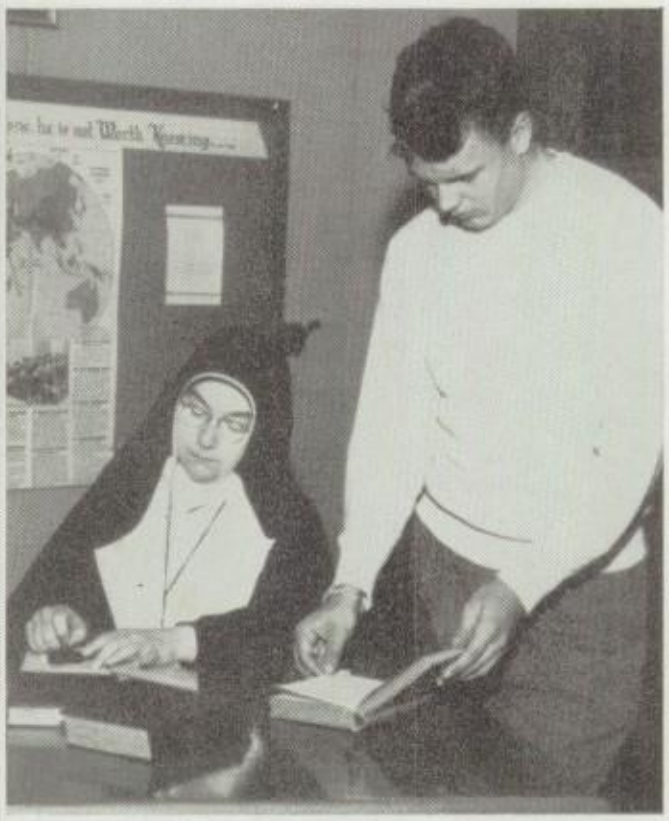
Our language teacher, Sister Mary Helen, has English I, Spanish I and II, Functional Spanish, and French I and II. Here she points out a fundamental rule of Spanish grammar to Bernard Burdick and Marilyn Thoms.



Without Sister Winifred, the math and science departments could hardly function. Sister has geometry, algebra, physics, and advanced mathematics classes plus her work in the book store.



Mr. Joseph Frisz explains a complex equation to Wyneta McKenzie and James Walter in his advanced algebra class. His other classes are freshman algebra and drivers' training. He coaches the freshman football and basketball teams.



The library is the main concern of Sister Ann Joachim along with her world history and business arithmetic classes. Here she checks in a library book for Tom Maloney.

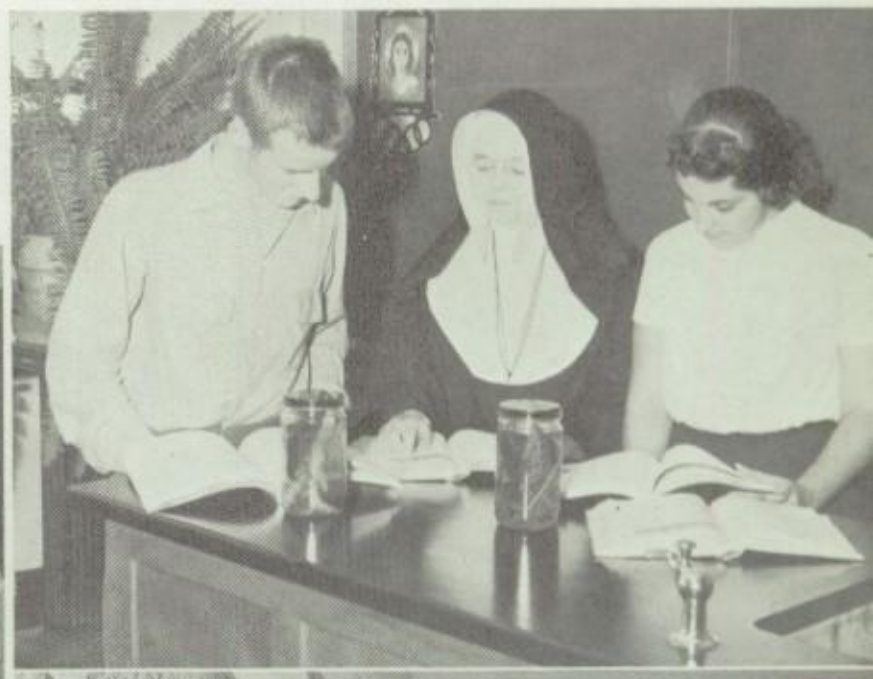
Chemistry, English I, health, and algebra take up the greater part of Sister Jean Margaret's time. She is literary advisor of the school's yearbook.

Teach Us . . .

Freshmen are given an excellent foundation in religion for their next three years by Father Moran. His simple explanations of seemingly difficult matter are a great help to all.

Father Victor gives Ray Killion an explanation of one of the mysteries of our faith discussed in his junior religion class.

Sister Agnes Aloyse produces for biology students, Michael Felix and Sue Mueller, material bringing interest that cannot be gained through books alone. Sister also teaches essential material to junior English classes.



Mr. James Berger, our basketball coach, proves to be an expert shop teacher, too. He presides over the freshman, sophomore, and junior shop classes.

Sister Marian, one of the newest members of our faculty, instructs Jane Findley and Donald Lintzenich in finding strategic places on a map in U.S. history class. Current world problems, English III, and journalism are other classes which she teaches.

And Encourage Us . . .

Miss Lucille Carbon, Schulte's private secretary, is indispensable to Father Beechem and the rest of the faculty. Her friendly smile always accompanies the many services she renders.

Leading the senior class are the officers: Ronald Sullivan, vice-president; Richard O'Leary, treasurer; Michael Merrill, secretary; and William Fenoglio, president.

Class of '57 . . .

An outstanding group from their first days at Schulte, the seniors have retained their popularity with underclassmen and faculty alike. Full of school spirit, anxious to keep Schulte on top in all city-wide contests, this group has exemplified a loyalty that will be difficult for future seniors to surpass.

On an educational tour of our state's Capitol, seniors glean information which enriches their civics and sociology classes.

Schulte's Loss;

Heaven's Gain . . .

No words can express the feeling of loss that we, the seniors, experienced May 13, 1956, when we found that our classmate and friend, Paul Troth, had been called by God to his eternal home. His unexpected departure left us stunned. Knowing that death could have come to any one of us, we only pray that our souls will be as close to God as Paul's was. An example and friend to everyone, his spirit is still with his many friends and associates at Schulte.

A varsity member of the basketball and football teams during his three years at Schulte, Paul was also a natural leader and took an active part in all of the school's academic and social activities.

Class of '58 . . .

Preparing to assume the responsibility of leadership next year, the junior class is well fortified with spirit and determination that have been characteristic of this class for the past three years.

Decoration designs and posters are underway for the Junior Prom as members and committee chairmen of the class work laboriously.

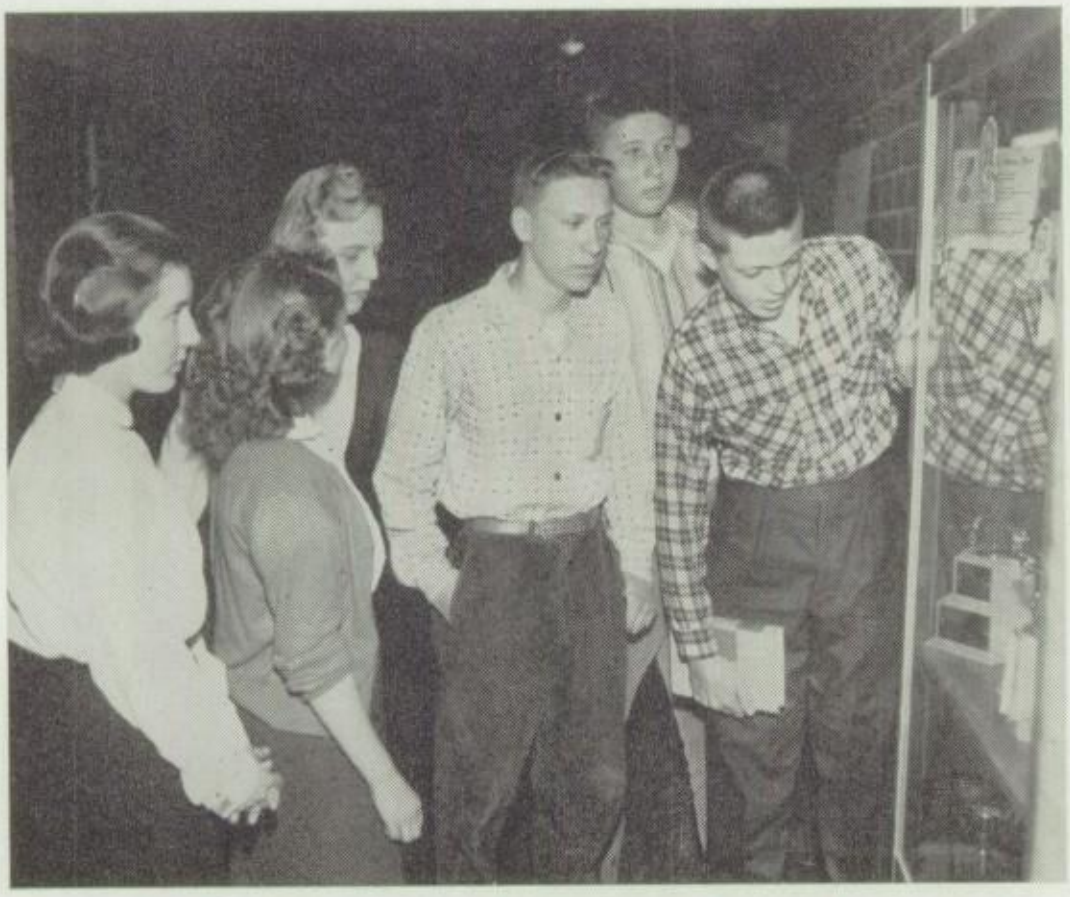
Sophomore officers see what percentage of their class is listed on the honor roll. They are: Sharon Kearney, secretary; Joseph Card, vice-president; Donna Tuberosa, treasurer; and James McQuade, president.

Class of '59 . . .



Sophomores Deanna Robinson, Sonja Danikow, Mary Ann Mahalek, Raymond Stanisz, Edward Muraski, and Charles Tartaglia examine with pride trophies won by prominent Schulteans.

With first year experiences behind them, the sophomores have now become an efficiently operating group. Their support and backing of all school activities have given them a reputation for spirit and cooperation.

Officers of the freshman class are: Daniel Wrin, secretary; Carol Sue Hanna, vice-president; Ann Bartholome, treasurer; and Robert Valle, president.

Class of '60 . . .

Freshman study club members follow with interest the story of a Viatorian vocation, subject of a film shown to all mission-minded freshmen.

As the newness of high school with its change of classes, variety of teachers, cafeteria customs, visits to the school chapel, and other unfamiliar routines wore off, the freshmen undertook their responsibilities with fresh vitality and genial dispositions.

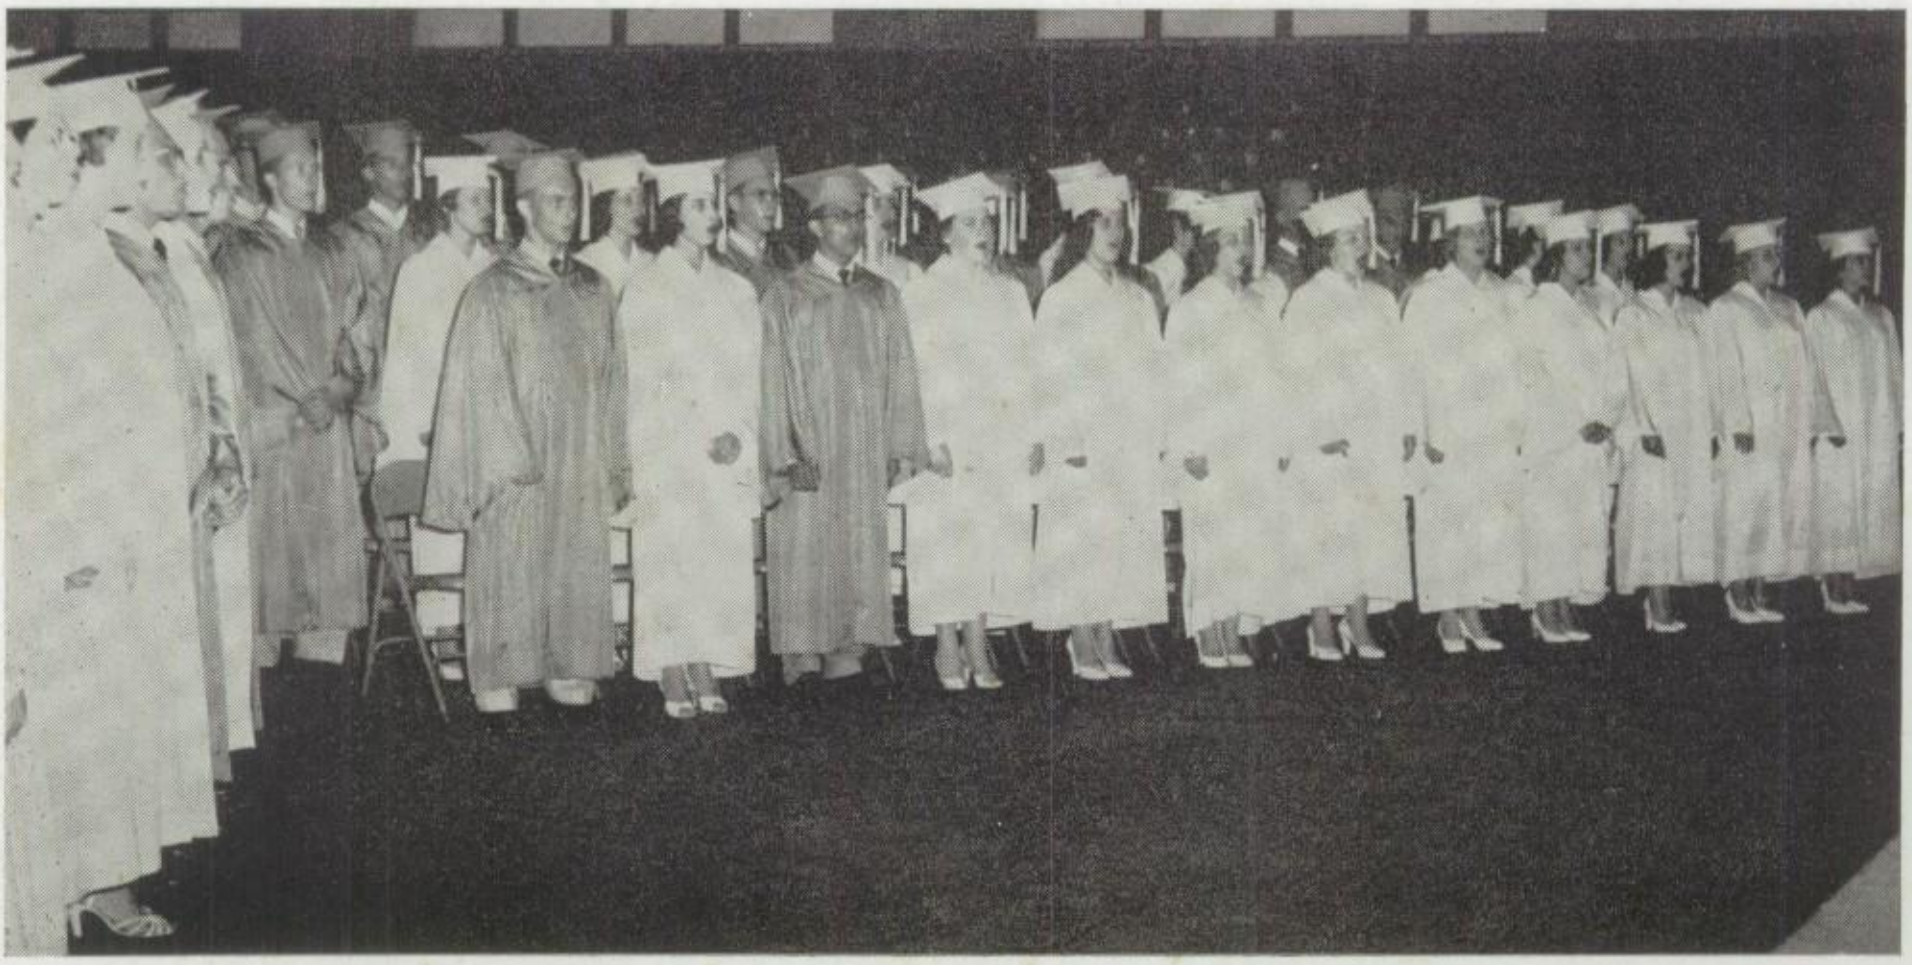
Intermingle of Classes . . .

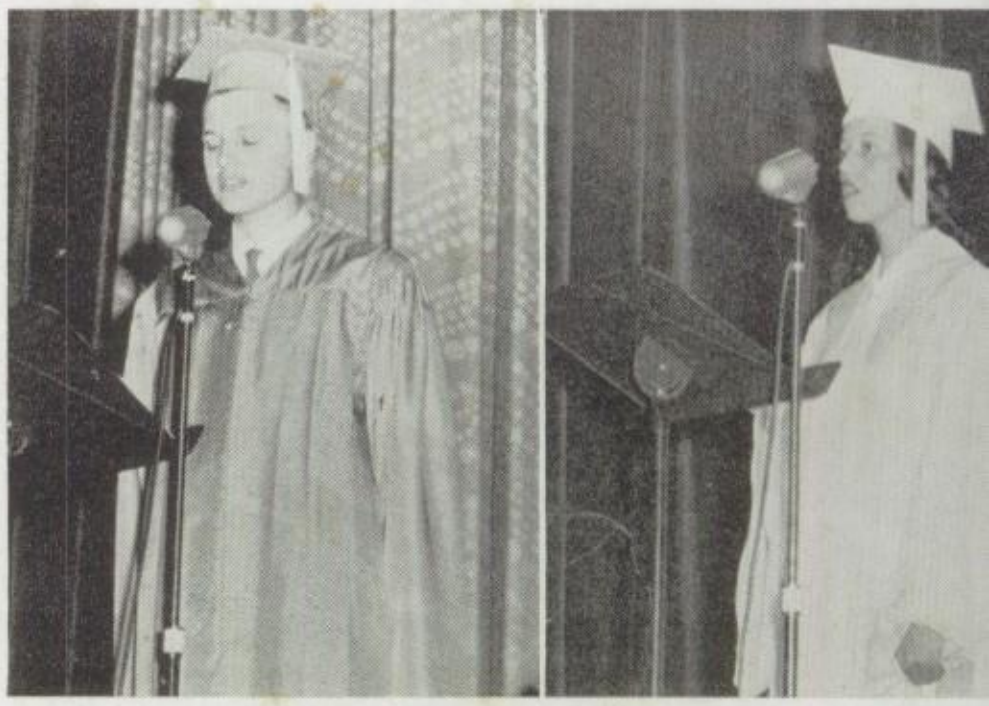
Nancy Bright, Sam Bryant, Dennis Barrett, Mary Ann McKinney, Marilyn Murdock, Larry Pesavento, and Linda Turner —various students from all four classes— examplify the unifying spirit that exists at Schulte High School.



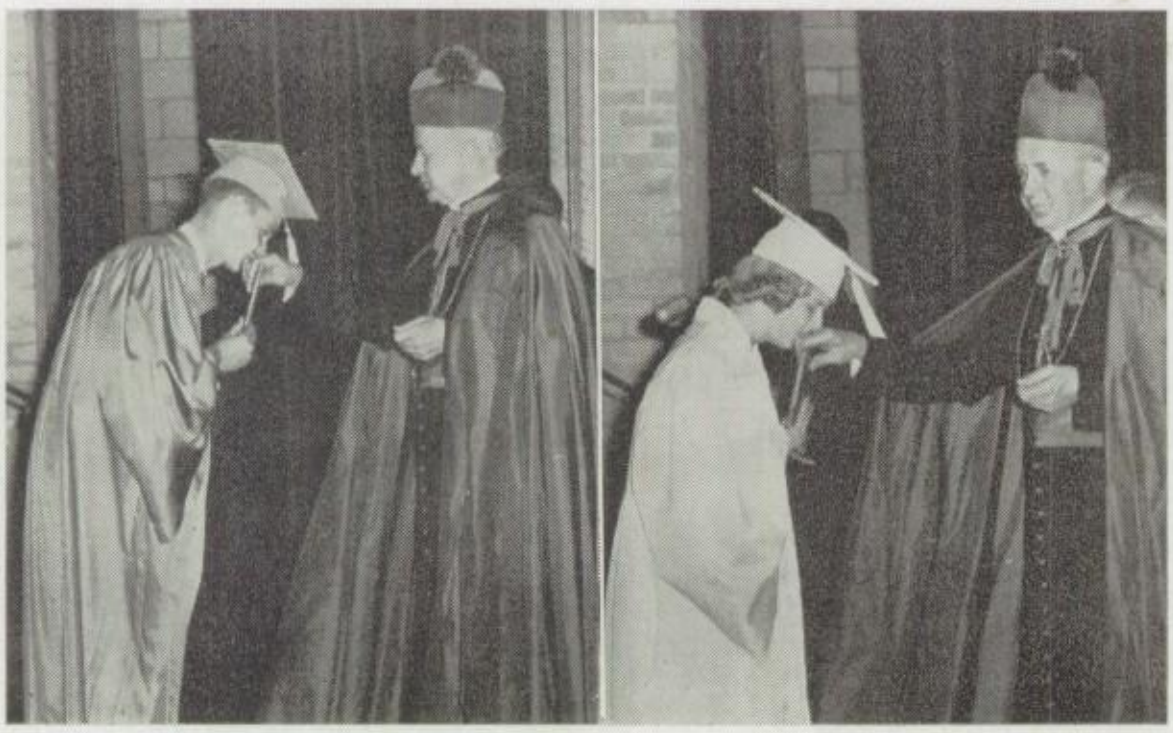
The 1956 graduating class stands together for the last time as they sing "You'll Never Walk Alone."

Seniors Bid Farewell . . .

Commencement Day was a joyous occasion for the seniors as they realized an important goal, the completion of their high school education. Anxious for new courage, new ideals, and new knowledge, an eager world awaited these graduates.



Paul Funk, salutatorian, and Dorothy Wilson, valedictorian, impart to the audience, in the name of their classmates, the sentiments of the graduates upon leaving Schulte.



Joseph Anderson and Cynthia Boyd receive their diplomas and kiss the seal of Archbishop Schulte's ring.

Here To Help . . .

Thanks to Schulte's two faithful custodians Schulte's heating, lighting, and cleaning problems were well managed.

Mr. Frank Eickmeier and Mr. Bernard Davis take full charge of all Schulte's maintenance problems.

Mrs. Joseph McQuade, Mrs. Clarence Reedy, Mrs. Russell Boyd, and Mrs. Edmund James provide us with the best in school cafeteria cooking.

De luxe service was rendered to both the faculty and the students by crews of tireless, efficient workers. In our modern, well-equipped cafeteria, four experienced cooks prepared luncheons par excellence for all. The Sisters' meals were served by two senior girls.

Janet Lubbehusen and Kay Royer set the table for the Sisters before their lunch hour.

Businessmen in and around Terre Haute have made our yearbook, the Mitre, possible. Without their cooperation and financial backing, our book could not have been completed. Sincere appreciation from each member of the class of 1957 is given to these loyal advertisers.

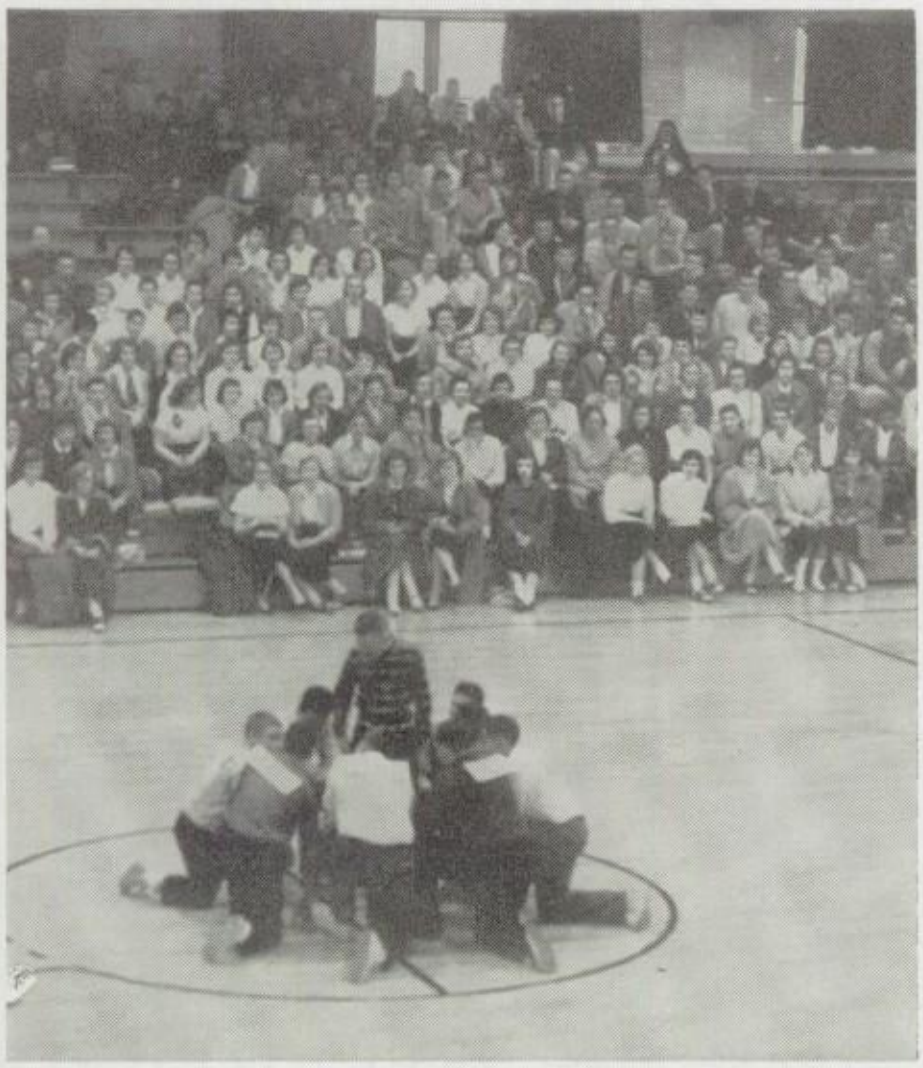
2019 Crawford St.

Terre Haute, Indiana

Exchange students to Marshall High School of Marshall, Illinois, were Jack Schnyder, Suzanne Kammerer, Mary Lee Shea, and James O'Connell. Those students who participated in Schulte's activities for a day were Philip Junker, Charlotte Coleman, Ann Jensen, and James Wajrick.



This freshman-sponsored pep session boosted the students to the peak of school spirit before the Wiley-Schulte basketball game.

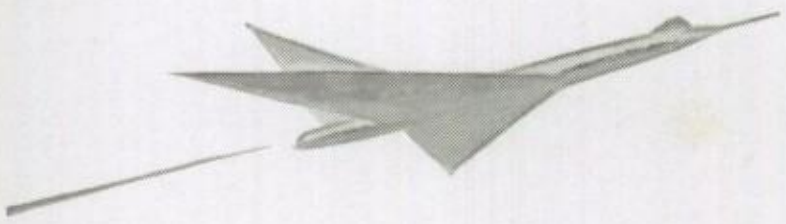
The Promise of Tomorrow



The future of our society is geared to a continuing supply of new knowledge . . . fresh enthusiasms . . . untried ideas.

Progress comes with creative effort by imaginative people. At Allis-Chalmers, such people work together around the calendar in a constant search for better means to better living.

America's continuing quest for improvement means growing opportunity for the individual . . . continued advancement for our nation. That's the promise of tomorrow.
